Murdered with Baby Due

Germany Is Rated No. 3 Power Now

This picture emerged from the annual assessment of NATO strength. The meeting of ministers from the 15 treaty nations headed to its conclusion tonight with big gains for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and losses for French Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Not that there was any dispute between representatives of the two leaders. Since De Gaulle became premier June 1, circumstances have made them friends seeking the same goals—at least over the short range.

But the Germans were NATO's fair-haired boys. The French had to defend their military shortcomings and failed to win the top place in Allied councils which De Gaulle seeks.

All 15 countries agreed with the military goals presented by the supreme Allied commander, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad. But an official spokesman added that Norstad's program of 30 combat-ready divisions at full strength and of speeding up development of nuclear weapons was accepted only as an objective. This was an admission that some nations, notably France, are dragging their feet.

For several years NATO military planners have been disturbed by France's inability to end the Algerian rebellion and bring back to Europe the several hundred thousand troops sent to quell the nationalist uprising.

During those years the West Germans have been building a new military force. Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said by the end of March West Germany will have a 200,000-man force in the NATO defense line.

A further indication of West Germany's emergence as the world's major continental military power was contained in the report that for the first time Germans will produce missiles. They will work with France and Italy on antiaircraft missiles which probably will be equipped eventually with nuclear warheads, informants said.

French Army Minister Pierre Guillaumant defended his country's sparse contribution to NATO defenses. He said France would do its best to fulfill its European role but it has many overseas obligations and is "holding the flank of NATO," meaning North Africa.

De Gaulle suffered a blow in failing to win support for his hope of joining the United States and Britain in a guiding directorate for NATO. The Premier is seeking to win for France the authority of a major power, but Washington and London are leary of antagonizing other NATO members and partially tying their own hands without getting anything in return.

Envoys Unable To Agree on Parley Purpose

GENEVA (AP) — The 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attacks ended today in complete failure

The talks never got down to a serious discussion of a surprise attack alert system because East and West were in total disagreement on the very purpose of the conference.

The Soviet bloc made a vain effort at the 4½-hour final meeting to have Jan. 5—or any other date — fixed for resumption of the talks.

The Western group, led by William C. Foster of the United States, firmly told the Soviet bloc it was useless to reconvene unless an agreed bases for the discussions could be established in direct contacts betwen the governments concerned.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada represented the North Atlantic Treaty powers; and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania the East bloc.

The conference opened Nov. 10 and became bogged down from the start in procedural arguments.

The Western side submitted numerous technical proposals in the hope the Soviet bloc would agree to discuss these without bringing up political issues.

In Paris, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today reported to North Atlantic Treaty Organization members that a little progress has been made in talks with the Soviet Union on suspending nuclear tests.

But, he said, it is premature to be optimistic as to ultimate success because the Soviet views on the nature of control differ sharply from the views of the Western powers.

Dulles said that the most encouraging aspect at Geneva was that the Soviet Union dropped its resistance to including the matter of control in a treaty dealing with suspension of tests.

He said the United States and Great Britain disagree at the Geneva talks with the Soviet plan to impose severe restrictions on the movement of control teams set up to police any test ban.

The ministers accepted Dulles' invitation to hold the 10th anniversary meeting of the 15-nation NATO pact in Washington April 2-4.

Dulles flies tonight to Jamaica where he will rest for a week before returning to Washington.

Stores Open Nights

The night-shopping season begins in earnest in downtown Washington C. H. Thursday.

Most stores will be open until 9 p. m.--not only tonight, but every night, except Sunday until Christmas Eve.

Retailers Report Business Is Good

NEW YORK (AP)—"Christmas business will equal last year and may be a little better. But it's not running away."

This cautiously phrased comment from M. E. Arnett, vice president of Bullock's Department Store in Los Angeles, typifies the attitude of hundreds of retailers across the country interviewed by The Associated Press in a survey of Christmas business prospects.

Most are confident of beating last year's record totals (thanks in part to slightly higher prices and an extra shopping day). But few see anything that resembles a real boom.

"There's no doubt but that the buying public has the money and a disposition to spend it," declares a merchant in Fort Worth. "To say business is good is putting it mildly, for if it gets any better it will be terrific."

And an Abilene, Tex., store official states: "If it was any better I don't know what I'd do."

Christmas business is good in Denver. High on the list of wanted merchandise are such relatively costly items as stereophonic hi-fi sets, pianos, organs, outboard motors and boats.

But in Cleveland, Pittsburgh and New Orleans, merchants hope to match last year's sales but are not sure they will.

Big retailers say they've been doing as well or better than last year but they're comparing current business with a brutally tough 1957 period when traffic was snarled by a subway strike. Most say telephone and mail order business — which amounts to 15 per cent of total Christmas sales — is down sharply.

Store traffic held up fairly well in the early days of the newspaper blackout but declined as the strike entered its second week. Another strike-inspired problem: How to get rid of specially priced gift items the stores had intended to push via spectacular sales campaigns. Warehouses are bursting with merchandise of this type.

Hospital Attache Has Holiday Spirit And She Shows It!

Santa Claus won't overlook Miss Maxine Gilmerr, office manager at Memorial Hospital.

He just couldn't, for Miss Gilmerr, who believes that if you have the Christmas spirit you should show it, has had her hair tinted green! Not a subdued green, mind you, but a brilliant, verdant, festive hue!

The Christmas topping was intended primarily to add color to the Memorial Hospital Yuletide party, but the effect is so startlingly seasonal that Miss Gilmerr will remain a living Christmas tree through the holidays.

And you'll have to admit that green hair and a beige suit make a stunning combination... particularly when complemented by Christmas tree earrings.

Lawyer Says Brutal Slayer Is 'Insane'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The attorney for a youth accused of the brutal sex slaying of the young, pregnant wife of an Ohio State University dental student said today his client is insane.

Attorney Russell S. Welch thus indicated he will base his defense of David S. Smith, 20, on those grounds.

Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck said Smith, part-time Ohio State student, will be charged with first-degree murder. Sheriff's deputies said Smith has confessed the slaying of Mrs. Janice O. Porter, 24, in the bedroom of her home Tuesday morning.

Welch said he will probably request a mental examination for his client. The attorney called Smith "timid" and said nothing has been uncovered to indicate Smith ever showed any cruel tendencies.

Lt. Beck quoted Smith as saying he went to the Porter home intending to assault and kill the expectant mother, that he bound her hands behind her and blindfolded her with a hankerchief, assaulted her and then shot her in the forehead.

Meanwhile, the victim's family prepared for funeral services at 2 p.m. Friday in Sonora Methodist Church in Zanesville, Mrs. Porter's former home.

CROP Needs Your Help!

Have you made your contribution to CROP, the Christian Rural Overseas Program?

If you have not, do it NOW. The deadline for the fund-raising campaign is Saturday.

And why are contributions now so urgent?

Because the campaign has bogged down seriously in Fayette County.

Thursday morning, admittedly discouraged leaders, sent $475 — all that had been contributed — to the national CROP headquarters.

In some previous years, they pointed out, contributions have reached $2,000 and more. This year, with only two days left, they have amounted to only $475.

* * *

WHILE THIS is primarily a rural campaign, the churches in Washington C. H. have contributed a little more than $200, raised principally through special offerings at the Thanksgiving services. The Rotary club gave $49.

The Rev. Donis D. Patterson, president of the Fayette County Ministerial Assn., is chairman of this phase of the campaign.

The rural campaign is headed by Frank Alexander, of the Farm Bureau staff, and Charles B. Cook, who is active in Grange affairs.

* * *

WILLIAM PURCELL of the Washington Savings Bank staff is treasurer. Leaders said contributions may be sent to him or one of the solicitors.

CROP, in case you didn't know is a nationwide organization that sends food, medicine and clothing to the needy in foreign countries. Through an arrangement with the federal government, $1 given to CROP will send 300 pounds of government surplus food to the hungry overseas.

3 Big Children's Parties Slated during Next 4 Days

If Christmas is not a merry time for every youngster in Washington C. H. and Fayette County it won't be because every effort has not been made to make it just that.

There are, of course, the parties and programs and treats at the schools and churches. But there are still more — three in a row, starting Friday afternoon with the big county-wide party sponsored by the Paul H. Hughey post of the American Legion.

This one is for underprivileged boys and girls selected by school teachers and members of the staffs of the county Health and Welfare departments. Around 300 children from the less fortunate families in the city and county are expected, they have already been invited by the teachers and county staff members to the Legion Home.

* * *

THE PARTY will start at 2:30 p. m. and Santa Claus will arrive about an hour later. He will have toys and treats for the youngsters 6 to 10 years old. There will be just about anything a young heart could desire, from dolls to bicycles.

The Legion has bought more than 300 brand new toys with part of the $500 given by the county commissioners from the Eyman fund put at their disposal by the fund trustees. There are so many more used but still usable toys giv-

Ex-Con's Gift Erases 'Ex'

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — John Perry, 20, was released from county jail after being held in an embezzlement case. Sheriff Don Genung said Perry returned the next day with cigarettes and candy for his 18 inmate friends.

The box of candy also contained five hacksaw blades. Perry is back in jail for smuggling escape material.

Pretty Ohio Girl Hopes To Be Wed To Nepalese Prince

NEW YORK (AP) —A Nepalese prince and a pretty Cleveland, Ohio, girl have taken out a marriage license, but the girl's father says wedding plans await the consent of the royal family.

The couple — Prince Basundhara Bir Bikram Shah, 36, brother of the King of Nepal, and Lynn Waldron, 22 — obtained the license Nov. 13.

The matter of the Hindu prince obtaining his family's approval was brought up Wednesday night in Cleveland by the young woman's father, George E. Waldron, a brewery company executive. He did not elaborate.

He said his only child met the prince while she was touring the world.

Slayer of 3 Women Gets Death Penalty

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "Some crimes are so revolting there is only one penalty — the death penalty," said Superior Judge John A. Hewicker.

"I've never heard anything like this case—and I hope I won't again," he added.

Before him stood Harvey Glatman, 31, a Los Angeles television repairman who had confessed luring three young women into remote areas to take photographs, then raping and slowly strangling them.

"The torment and the suffering those girls underwent," said Hewicker, "must have been horrible. I will impose the death penalty as the only proper judgment."

Glatman later told reporters: "It was about what I wanted."

He was ordered to die for the murders in San Diego County of Mrs. Shirley Ann Bridgeford, 24, a Sun Valley, Calif., divorcee, and Miss Ruth Mercado, 24, a Los Angeles model. He was not tried for the slaying of Hollywood model Judy Dull, 19. The murder took place in neighboring Riverside County.

Socialite, 45, Accused of Slaying Dad

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—Socially prominent Miss Isabel Russell, 45, is charged with murder in the death of her father, a onetime wealthy business executive.

The body of Joseph B. Russell, 74, was found Sept. 1 under shrubbery at the family's palatial estate in Westwood, a fashionable suburb about 12 miles southwest of Boston.

A medical examination report showed Russell's chest had been crushed and his back broken. It was not until Miss Russell was brought to court Wednesday that it was learned a police investigation had been under way.

Before entering court, Miss Russell said: "I did not kill my father. I don't know what this is all about. The last time I saw my father was at midnight last September. The next time was when I saw him lying on the ground outside."

Miss Russell was arrested at a Brookline hotel where she and a sister, Frances, 48, lived since the father's death.

Bogota Fire Toll Hits 84

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The death toll of the Vida department store fire stood today at 84. It rose to that figure with the death of two persons seriously injured in the tragedy that came during a Christmas shopping rush Tuesday night.

Judge Gonzalo Jimenez Arias began an intensive investigation today. Acting as a one-man grand jury under Colombian procedure, he began questioning a long list of survivors and store employes.

U.S. German Policy Said Self-Centered

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Harold E. Stassen says the United States should sanction unification of East and West Germany if Russia will agree to complete atomic disarmament of Germany with assurance of United Nations inspection.

The German situation, he said, is an example of self-centered American foreign policy.

South Lebanon's Street Lights Off, Unable To Pay Bill

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The nearby village of South Lebanon, with a population of about 1,300, is without street lights because it doesn't have any money to pay its electric bill.

Mayor Miles Terry said the village owes a $2,480 electric bill and that it costs $240 a month to keep the street lights burning.

"There just doesn't seem to be much sense in running up a bill we can't hope to pay," Terry added.

Mayor Terry said defeat of a 3.5 mill tax levy for the village of the November election eliminated any hope for replenishing the general fund.

OSU Aide Confesses Student Fund Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Virginia L. Meeks, 22, of Columbus, was arrested Wednesday and admitted embezzling $700 in student fees from the bursar's office at Ohio State University, the State Highway Patrol said.

Cpl. William George, who investigated the case for the patrol, said embezzlement charges probably will be filed against her.

He said she admitted taking the money because she was heavily in debt, and said that she spent all of it.

Con Sends Greetings

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Frances J. W. Ford received a Christmas card from Teddy Green, Boston bank robber serving 25 years in Alcatraz. It wished the judge a Merry Christmas and added: "Wish you were here."

High Level Talks Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of high level Soviet-American policy talks here opened up today with a report that Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan would like to visit Washington early next year.

Mikoyan is in the inner circle of Kremlin leadership close to Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The State Department has declined comment but the Soviet government was understood to have approached the U.S. embassy in Moscow about arranging the trip.

Mikoyan's immediate purpose would be to visit Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov. It would be his second visit to this country. His first was in 1936 as head of an industrial survey group.

The United States, some informants said, has not yet made a decision. But indications were that it would agree to the suggestion.

President Eisenhower proposed last February that leading Soviet personalities should come to this country and rid themselves by first hand observation of false conceptions which Eisenhower said they have about the United States.

Presumably if he came here, the 63-year-old Mikoyan would be prepared to discuss a wide range of outstanding disagreements and tensions.

But the belief here is that his main interest would be to promote greater trade.

St. Louis Student Is Shot, Run Over in Baffling Slaying

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A St. Louis University student, run over by a car and apparently shot three times, was found dying Wednesday night in a case that has police baffled.

The student, James S. Bullock, 27, of suburban Richmond Heights, died without speaking. Passing motorists had found him sprawled in a road in front of the City Art Museum.

Police were almost certain two head wounds were from a small caliber weapon and that half a dozen tiny wounds in the chest were from shotgun pellets but were awaiting results of an autopsy today.

A car had passed over both legs.

Police Sgt. Edward Schaaf said, "We have no definite leads."

Robbery was ruled out as a possible motive. Police found $20 in his pockets.

Bullock's car, the engine still running, was found on a gravel lane behind the museum in a secluded section on the west edge of St. Louis. A trail of blood led from the car.

His bride of six months, Etta, 23, said her husband had left home for night classes about half an hour before the body was found. Bullock was employed at the Union Electric Co.

Marilyn Monroe Loses Second Baby

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Marilyn Monroe has lost her second unborn child in 16 months. The miscarriage was confirmed Wednesday night.

The 32-year-old blonde film star was reported recovering at her home here with her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, at her side.

But Joseph Wolhandler, Miss Monroe's press representative, said she is extremely upset over the loss of the infant. He said the actress' doctors determined she had lost her baby early this week.

Miss Monroe was five or six weeks pregnant when she lost her first baby Aug. 1, 1957.

It's OK, Dad, to Frustrate Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "For pete's sake, clear out and let me shave!"

That, some say, is bad. You shouldn't threat your sweet little daughter that way. She might get a warped psyche.

But cheer up, harrassed dad. Somebody's on your side.

Dr. Herman Harvey, a psychology professor at the University of Southern California, says it's perfectly okay — in fact, the thing to do — for you to see that it's the kids who are frustrated, not you.

Frustrations are what make the little monsters grow up, says Dr. Harvey. They learned by climbing obstacles, not being lifted over them.

Harvey has experimented with animals. He says animals faced with gradually increasing vexations, carefully controlled, have appeared to build up immunity.

Parents should chuck the idea, Harvey says, that life should be a bed of roses for their children.

Little Dickey needs problems of molehill size. Then when he's big Richard, he'll know how to deal with stuambling blocks the size of mountains.

Not only that. Dickey will learn as a boy that solving problems can be fun.

Which leads to one of Harvey's main points. Frustration has probably accounted for every major creative achievement since the world began, he says.

"People have wanted something, they couldn't get it, so they have sat down and figured out a way to create it."

But they learned how as kids.

Germany Is Rated No. 3 Power Now

This picture emerged from the annual assessment of NATO strength. The meeting of ministers from the 15 treaty nations headed to its conclusion tonight with big gains for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and losses for French Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Not that there was any dispute between representatives of the two leaders. Since De Gaulle became premier June 1, circumstances have made them friends seeking the same goals—at least over the short range.

"The torment and the suffering those girls underwent," said Hewicker, "must have been horrible. I will impose the death penalty as the only proper judgment."

Glatman later told reporters: "It was about what I wanted."

He was ordered to die for the murders in San Diego County of Mrs. Shirley Ann Bridgeford, 24, a Sun Valley, Calif., divorcee, and Miss Ruth Mercado, 24, a Los Angeles model. He was not tried for the slaying of Hollywood model Judy Dull, 19. The murder took place in neighboring Riverside County.

Socialite, 45, Accused of Slaying Dad

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—Socially prominent Miss Isabel Russell, 45, is charged with murder in the death of her father, a onetime wealthy business executive.

The body of Joseph B. Russell, 74, was found Sept. 1 under shrubbery at the family's palatial estate in Westwood, a fashionable suburb about 12 miles southwest of Boston.

A medical examination report showed Russell's chest had been crushed and his back broken. It was not until Miss Russell was brought to court Wednesday that it was learned a police investigation had been under way.

Before entering court, Miss Russell said: "I did not kill my father. I don't know what this is all about. The last time I saw my father was at midnight last September. The next time was when I saw him lying on the ground outside."

Miss Russell was arrested at a Brookline hotel where she and a sister, Frances, 48, lived since the father's death.

Envoys Unable To Agree on Parley Purpose

GENEVA (AP) — The 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attacks ended today in complete failure

The talks never got down to a serious discussion of a surprise attack alert system because East and West were in total disagreement on the very purpose of the conference.

The Soviet bloc made a vain effort at the 4½-hour final meeting to have Jan. 5—or any other date — fixed for resumption of the talks.

The Western group, led by William C. Foster of the United States, firmly told the Soviet bloc it was useless to reconvene unless an agreed bases for the discussions could be established in direct contacts betwen the governments concerned.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada represented the North Atlantic Treaty powers; and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania the East bloc.

The conference opened Nov. 10 and became bogged down from the start in procedural arguments.

The Western side submitted numerous technical proposals in the hope the Soviet bloc would agree to discuss these without bringing up political issues.

In Paris, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today reported to North Atlantic Treaty Organization members that a little progress has been made in talks with the Soviet Union on suspending nuclear tests.

But, he said, it is premature to be optimistic as to ultimate success because the Soviet views on the nature of control differ sharply from the views of the Western powers.

Dulles said that the most encouraging aspect at Geneva was that the Soviet Union dropped its resistance to including the matter of control in a treaty dealing with suspension of tests.

He said the United States and Great Britain disagree at the Geneva talks with the Soviet plan to impose severe restrictions on the movement of control teams set up to police any test ban.

The ministers accepted Dulles' invitation to hold the 10th anniversary meeting of the 15-nation NATO pact in Washington April 2-4.

Dulles flies tonight to Jamaica where he will rest for a week before returning to Washington.

Bogota Fire Toll Hits 84

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The death toll of the Vida department store fire stood today at 84. It rose to that figure with the death of two persons seriously injured in the tragedy that came during a Christmas shopping rush Tuesday night.

Judge Gonzalo Jimenez Arias began an intensive investigation today. Acting as a one-man grand jury under Colombian procedure, he began questioning a long list of survivors and store employes.

U.S. German Policy Said Self-Centered

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Harold E. Stassen says the United States should sanction unification of East and West Germany if Russia will agree to complete atomic disarmament of Germany with assurance of United Nations inspection.

The German situation, he said, is an example of self-centered American foreign policy.

Stores Open Nights

The night-shopping season begins in earnest in downtown Washington C. H. Thursday.

Most stores will be open until 9 p. m.--not only tonight, but every night, except Sunday until Christmas Eve.

Retailers Report Business Is Good

NEW YORK (AP)—"Christmas business will equal last year and may be a little better. But it's not running away."

This cautiously phrased comment from M. E. Arnett, vice president of Bullock's Department Store in Los Angeles, typifies the attitude of hundreds of retailers across the country interviewed by The Associated Press in a survey of Christmas business prospects.

Most are confident of beating last year's record totals (thanks in part to slightly higher prices and an extra shopping day). But few see anything that resembles a real boom.

"There's no doubt but that the buying public has the money and a disposition to spend it," declares a merchant in Fort Worth. "To say business is good is putting it mildly, for if it gets any better it will be terrific."

And an Abilene, Tex., store official states: "If it was any better I don't know what I'd do."

Christmas business is good in Denver. High on the list of wanted merchandise are such relatively costly items as stereophonic hi-fi sets, pianos, organs, outboard motors and boats.

But in Cleveland, Pittsburgh and New Orleans, merchants hope to match last year's sales but are not sure they will.

Big retailers say they've been doing as well or better than last year but they're comparing current business with a brutally tough 1957 period when traffic was snarled by a subway strike. Most say telephone and mail order business — which amounts to 15 per cent of total Christmas sales — is down sharply.

Store traffic held up fairly well in the early days of the newspaper blackout but declined as the strike entered its second week. Another strike-inspired problem: How to get rid of specially priced gift items the stores had intended to push via spectacular sales campaigns. Warehouses are bursting with merchandise of this type.

Hospital Attache Has Holiday Spirit And She Shows It!

Santa Claus won't overlook Miss Maxine Gilmerr, office manager at Memorial Hospital.

He just couldn't, for Miss Gilmerr, who believes that if you have the Christmas spirit you should show it, has had her hair tinted green! Not a subdued green, mind you, but a brilliant, verdant, festive hue!

The Christmas topping was intended primarily to add color to the Memorial Hospital Yuletide party, but the effect is so startlingly seasonal that Miss Gilmerr will remain a living Christmas tree through the holidays.

And you'll have to admit that green hair and a beige suit make a stunning combination... particularly when complemented by Christmas tree earrings.

South Lebanon's Street Lights Off, Unable To Pay Bill

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The nearby village of South Lebanon, with a population of about 1,309, is without street lights because it doesn't have any money to pay its electric bill.

Mayor Miles Terry said the village owes a $2,480 electric bill and that it costs $240 a month to keep the street lights burning.

"There just doesn't seem to be much sense in running up a bill we can't hope to pay," Terry added.

Mayor Terry said defeat of a 3.5 mill tax levy for the village of the November election eliminated any hope for replenishing the general fund.

OSU Aide Confesses Student Fund Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Virginia L. Meeks, 22, of Columbus, was arrested Wednesday and admitted embezzling $700 in student fees from the bursar's office at Ohio State University, the State Highway Patrol said.

Cpl. William George, who investigated the case for the patrol, said embezzlement charges probably will be filed against her.

He said she admitted taking the money because she was heavily in debt, and said that she spent all of it.

Con Sends Greetings

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — U. S Dist. Judge Frances J. W. Ford received a Christmas card from Teddy Green, Boston bank robber serving 25 years in Alcatraz. It wished the judge a Merry Christmas and added: "Wish you were here."

It's OK, Dad, to Frustrate Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "For pete's sake, clear out and let me shave!"

That, some say, is bad. You shouldn't threat your sweet little daughter that way. She might get a warped psyche.

But cheer up, harrassed dad. Somebody's on your side.

Dr. Herman Harvey, a psychology professor at the University of Southern California, says it's perfectly okay — in fact, the thing to do — for you to see that it's the kids who are frustrated, not you.

Frustrations are what make the little monsters grow up, says Dr. Harvey. They learned by climbing obstacles, not being lifted over them.

Harvey has experimented with animals. He says animals faced with gradually increasing vexations, carefully controlled, have appeared to build up immunity.

Parents should chuck the idea, Harvey says, that life should be a bed of roses for their children.

Little Dickey needs problems of molehill size. Then when he's big Richard, he'll know how to deal with stuambling blocks the size of mountains.

Not only that. Dickey will learn as a boy that solving problems can be fun.

Which leads to one of Harvey's main points. Frustration has probably accounted for every major creative achievement since the world began, he says.

"People have wanted something, they couldn't get it, so they have sat down and figured out a way to create it."

But they learned how as kids.

Scout Executive Coming Here on Full Time Basis

Council Outlines Plans To Expand Program in County

Fayette County will have a full time resident Boy Scout field executive within the next couple of months.

This became a certainty at Wednesday night's dinner meeting in the Hotel Washington Coffee Shop when George Neibler and the adult district Scout leaders outlined plans for expanding the Scout program here.

Neibler, who is about 35 years old, will move to Washington C. H. with his family the latter part of February after he completes a six-week special training course at the national Scout headquarters in New Brunswick, N. J.

He was assigned to the post here by the Central Ohio Boy Scout Council several days ago and the appointment was confined by the district officials here at the Wednesday night meeting.

Neibler will succeed Joe Hutt, who resigned as field executive here last summer to return to Ohio State University in September to resume his studies.

* * *

SINCE Hutt left, Vance Leonard has been coming here from the Columbus headquarters about once a week to lend a hand to local leaders in maintaining the Scout program until a new executive could be assigned here.

Dr. Robert Harris, the district (Fayette County) chairman, said "we hope to expand the program here when Neibler gets on the job."

There are now four Scout troops in the county — two in Washington C. H. and one each at Jeffersonville and Milledgeville. Dr. Harris said the district council hopes to at least double that number.

The Cub Scout program is a little more extensive here right now, Dr. Harris said, with eight packs of two or more dens each. The Cubs are boys under Scout age. The council hopes to expand the Cub activities, too, Dr. Harris said.

District officers at Wednesday night's meeting with Neibler were Robert Minshall, vice chairman; Joe O'Brien, leadership training chairman; Colin C. Campbell, finance chairman, and Earl Henderson, organization ard extension chairman.

Children's Parties

Many of the children also will be given certificates for the purchase of clothing. The Legion itself has allotted round $250 for this purpose.

The youngsters will be served ice cream and doughnuts at the party and each will be given a box of candy and an orange.

On Saturday, Legionnaires will deliver toys and a treat to the preschool kiddies in their homes with trucks provided by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

* * *

THE NEXT PARTY — and it probably will be by far the biggest — will be in Memorial Hall Saturday afternoon. The Fraternal Order of Police and Fraternal Order of Police Associates will be hosts to an expected 1,000 to 1,100 boys and girls regardless of the economic or social position in life of their families.

Patrolman Herschel Taylor of the city police force and FOP president, said every youngster in the first six grades of school is invited.

Doors to the hall will open at 1:30 p. m. The party will start half an hour later and last until 4 p. m. Uniformed officers and other members of both organizations will mingle with the children, and lead them in games and other entertainment until Santa arrives. Then they all will get candy, an apple and an orange.

Taylor said the party will cost around $300. Most ofthe money came from the Policeman's Ball, but there also were some contributions by big-hearted individuals.

* * *

MONDAY AFTERNOON, the two chapters of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority here will entertain 17 boys and 17 girls of pre-school age selected by members of the staffs of the county health and welfare department.

The party will start at 2 p. m. in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium where there will be games and treats of candy and fruit. But the highlight will be the arrival of Santa Claus, bringing each little tike toys and a pair of pajamas.

Mrs. Floyd West is the general chairman.

Children Present Operetta Twice to Overflow Crowd

Eastside School children gave a double dose of Christmas cheer Wednesday night as they presented their operetta, "He Said He Was Santa", twice to a huge crowd which flooded the auditorium.

The operetta told how Santa Claus, played by Bruce Core, was rescued by a band of gnomes in the Alps after becoming separated from his sleigh and reindeer.

First grade girls played the sleepy dolls, first grade boys the stick horses, second grade girls the carolers, second grade boys the puppy dogs, third grade girls the dolls, third grade boys the clowns, fourth grade girls the Christmas cookies, fourth grade boys the toy soldiers, fifth grade girls the Christmas candles, fifth grade boys the peppermint canes and sixth grade girls the snowflakes.

Arkansas Poll Fuss Boils High

Hays-Alford Dispute To Be Aired in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bitter fight that could rock the Hays-Alford election dispute moved today toward a possibly bitter fight that could rock the House.

A special House committee voted 3-2 Wednesday to recommend that Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist, be denied a seat pending an investigation into charges of irregularities and fraud in his election. The two no votes came from Southerners.

Alford, who testified he believed he was elected honestly, promised to push his case at once.

Alford entered the November election at virtually the last minute.

Running as a write-in candidate, he beat Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on segregation, by about 1,200 votes.

The committee Southerners, Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and Robert Jones (D-Ala), agreed the election should be investigated. But they said Alford should be seated pending the outcome of the inquiry. This, they said, would be in line with past procedure.

Red Envoy Is Lone Wolf

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov found himself in something of a lone wolf role at Wednesday night's White House state dinner for diplomats, with "no lady allocated for me."

Protocol seemed to be taking a backseat in other ways.

The White House staged the first of two dinners for the heads of 83 foreign missions.

Of the 78 guests Wednesday night, there were 10 "extra"men and Ambassador Menshikov was one of them.

The usually smiling Russian, looking a little glum, walked alone as the diplomats and ladies went two by two into the East Ballroom for an after-dinner musicale.

When reporters asked why he was alone, he smiled and explained that his wife was home in Moscow and there was "no lady allocated for me."

He was still alone as the guests went into a late evening buffet. He was among the first guests to leave.

Sheriffs Ask High Penalty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most Ohio sheriffs believe a convicted murderer should never be permitted to return to society. This was indicated today in a poll of those attending a session of the Buckeye Sheriffs' Assn. here.

The poll showed a majority of the members favor capital punishment, and all favor a law establishing a life sentence without hope of pardon or parole for persons convicted of murder.

The association also has adopted a seven-point legislative program. The program calls for: (1) A statute making a criminal offense for a physician or hospital attendant's failure to report a gunshot wound; (2) A statute making it a misdemeanor to make a false report to an enforcement officer, (for example, a bogus report of a bomb being planted in a school building); (3) Establishment of a safety center; (4) Insurance protection of a deputy working in another county at the request of a sheriff; (5) An increase in county fees; (6) Cost of living pay increases for county officials, and (7) Uniform marking of sheriffs' cars and standard dress for deputies.

Blue Chips Strong on Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — American Telephone continued to advance, other blue chips rose and steels were strong today. The stock market went ahead in active trading early this afternoon.

Among the more normally priced key stocks gains ran from fractions to more than a point. The [illegible]-priced issues posted gains half a dozen points or more.

AT&T was up about 4 at best and was selling at about a 3-point net gain this afternoon following a leap of 21 Wednesday on a proposed 3-for-1 stock split and higher dividend.

The market was higher at the start.

Rails, motors and chemicals were higher. Aircrafts, nonferrous metals and drugs were mixed.

Scout Executive Coming Here on Full Time Basis

Council Outlines Plans To Expand Program in County

Fayette County will have a full time resident Boy Scout field executive within the next couple of months.

This became a certainty at Wednesday night's dinner meeting in the Hotel Washington Coffee Shop when George Neibler and the adult district Scout leaders outlined plans for expanding the Scout program here.

Neibler, who is about 35 years old, will move to Washington C. H. with his family the latter part of February after he completes a six-week special training course at the national Scout headquarters in New Brunswick, N. J.

He was assigned to the post here by the Central Ohio Boy Scout Council several days ago and the appointment was confined by the district officials here at the Wednesday night meeting.

Neibler will succeed Joe Hutt, who resigned as field executive here last summer to return to Ohio State University in September to resume his studies.

* * *

SINCE Hutt left, Vance Leonard has been coming here from the Columbus headquarters about once a week to lend a hand to local leaders in maintaining the Scout program until a new executive could be assigned here.

Dr. Robert Harris, the district (Fayette County) chairman, said "we hope to expand the program here when Neibler gets on the job."

There are now four Scout troops in the county — two in Washington C. H. and one each at Jeffersonville and Milledgeville. Dr. Harris said the district council hopes to at least double that number.

The Cub Scout program is a little more extensive here right now, Dr. Harris said, with eight packs of two or more dens each. The Cubs are boys under Scout age. The council hopes to expand the Cub activities, too, Dr. Harris said.

District officers at Wednesday night's meeting with Neibler were Robert Minshall, vice chairman; Joe O'Brien, leadership training chairman; Colin C. Campbell, finance chairman, and Earl Henderson, organization ard extension chairman.

Children's Parties

Many of the children also will be given certificates for the purchase of clothing. The Legion itself has allotted round $250 for this purpose.

The youngsters will be served ice cream and doughnuts at the party and each will be given a box of candy and an orange.

On Saturday, Legionnaires will deliver toys and a treat to the preschool kiddies in their homes with trucks provided by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

THE NEXT PARTY — and it probably will be by far the biggest — will be in Memorial Hall Saturday afternoon. The Fraternal Order of Police and Fraternal Order of Police Associates will be hosts to an expected 1,000 to 1,100 boys and girls regardless of the economic or social position in life of their families.

Patrolman Herschel Taylor of the city police force and FOP president, said every youngster in the first six grades of school is invited.

Doors to the hall will open at 1:30 p. m. The party will start half an hour later and last until 4 p. m. Uniformed officers and other members of both organizations will mingle with the children, and lead them in games and other entertainment until Santa arrives. Then they all will get candy, an apple and an orange.

Taylor said the party will cost around $300. Most ofthe money came from the Policeman's Ball, but there also were some contributions by big-hearted individuals.

* * *

MONDAY AFTERNOON, the two chapters of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority here will entertain 17 boys and 17 girls of pre-school age selected by members of the staffs of the county health and welfare department.

The party will start at 2 p. m. in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium where there will be games and treats of candy and fruit. But the highlight will be the arrival of Santa Claus, bringing each little tike toys and a pair of pajamas.

Mrs. Floyd West is the general chairman.

Children Present Operetta Twice to Overflow Crowd

Eastside School children gave a double dose of Christmas cheer Wednesday night as they presented their operetta, "He Said He Was Santa", twice to a huge crowd which flooded the auditorium.

The operetta told how Santa Claus, played by Bruce Core, was rescued by a band of gnomes in the Alps after becoming separated from his sleigh and reindeer.

First grade girls played the sleepy dolls, first grade boys the stick horses, second grade girls the carolers, second grade boys the puppy dogs, third grade girls the dolls, third grade boys the clowns, fourth grade girls the Christmas cookies, fourth grade boys the toy soldiers, fifth grade girls the Christmas candles, fifth grade boys the peppermint canes and sixth grade girls the snowflakes.

Hays-Alford Dispute To Be Aired in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bitter fight that could rock the Hays-Alford election dispute moved today toward a possibly bitter fight that could rock the House.

A special House committee voted 3-2 Wednesday to recommend that Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist, be denied a seat pending an investigation into charges of irregularities and fraud in his election. The two no votes came from Southerners.

Alford, who testified he believed he was elected honestly, promised to push his case at once.

Alford entered the November election at virtually the last minute.

Running as a write-in candidate, he beat Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on segregation, by about 1,200 votes.

The committee's Southerners, Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and Robert Jones (D-Ala), agreed the election should be investigated. But they said Alford should be seated pending the outcome of the inquiry. This, they said, would be in line with past procedure.

Red Envoy Is Lone Wolf

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov found himself in something of a lone wolf role at Wednesday night's White House state dinner for diplomats, with "no lady allocated for me."

Protocol seemed to be taking a backseat in other ways.

The White House staged the first of two dinners for the heads of 83 foreign missions.

Of the 78 guests Wednesday night, there were 10 "extra"men and Ambassador Menshikov was one of them.

The usually smiling Russian, looking a little glum, walked alone as the diplomats and ladies went two by two into the East Ballroom for an after-dinner musicale.

When reporters asked why he was alone, he smiled and explained that his wife was home in Moscow and there was "no lady allocated for me."

He was still alone as the guests went into a late evening buffet. He was among the first guests to leave.

Sheriffs Ask High Penalty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most Ohio sheriffs believe a convicted murderer should never be permitted to return to society. This was indicated today in a poll of those attending a session of the Buckeye Sheriffs' Assn. here.

The poll showed a majority of the members favor capital punishment, and all favor a law establishing a life sentence without hope of pardon or parole for persons convicted of murder.

The association also has adopted a seven-point legislative program. The program calls for: (1) A statute making a criminal offense for a physician or hospital attendant's failure to report a gunshot wound; (2) A statute making it a misdemeanor to make a false report to an enforcement officer, (for example, a bogus report of a bomb being planted in a school building); (3) Establishment of a safety center; (4) Insurance protection of a deputy working in another county at the request of a sheriff; (5) An increase in county fees; (6) Cost of living pay increases for county officials, and (7) Uniform marking of sheriffs' cars and standard dress for deputies.

Blue Chips Strong on Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — American Telephone continued to advance, other blue chips rose and steels were strong today. The stock market went ahead in active trading early this afternoon.

Among the more normally priced key stocks gains ran from fractions to more than a point. The high-priced issues posted gains of half a dozen points or more.

AT&T was up about 4 at best and was selling at about a 3-point net gain this afternoon following a leap of 21 Wednesday on a proposed 3-for-1 stock split and higher dividend.

The market was higher at the start.

Rails, motors and chemicals were higher. Aircrafts, nonferrous metals and drugs were mixed.

Hidden Costs of Food Faddism

Food faddism is spreading with an alarming speed throughout this country — and it is now costing 10 million Americans over $500 million a year.

That statement comes from the American Medical Assn. The situation is so serious that the AMA is joining with the Food and Drug Administration and the National Better Business Bureau in a concerted program to inform the public of the dangers of the food faddism racket.

The money cost, bad as it is, is much less serious than the potential cost in health. It is true that many of the food fad products contain harmless ingredients. But they become a menace to public health when the promoters make extravagant claims for their healing powers. As the AMA puts it, the buyer who relies on vitamin mineral concentrates and seaweed - cereal mixtures to cure unidentified ailments may face tragic results.

The "medicine men" who use the products as their stock in trade employ all manner of inducements to the gullible, including advertising and door - to - door peddling. The common sales pitch is to argue that nutrition is the cause of all health difficulties.

It is actually claimed that a product will cure ailments as diverse as ulcerated stomach, arthritis, neuritis, bad vision, high blood pressure, and so on. High-powered testimonials are drawn up alleging that the products brought on complete and miraculous cures after doctors and standard medical treatment had totally failed.

The only protection against food faddism is public knowledge. As an AMA release puts it: "No one needs these pseudo - health foods when he follows a normal, varied diet; and the most economical and best source of all the nutritious foods your body needs is your own garden, grocery store, and meat counter. ."

Diet and Health — Helpful Diet Advice To Keep Regularity

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

YOU NEED bulk in your diet to maintain regularity. Just about everyone knows that.

But you don't always need roughage. Even if you do, these foods can be just as appetizing as anything else on the dinner plate.

Some Tips

Let me pass on a few tips about regularity diets that you probably don't know.

For one thing, you may require either rough or gentle bulk, whichever your doctor advises. Bulk, you see, comes from a liberal consumption of liquids plus the cellulose of foods.

Lots of Roughage

Cellulose can be found in great abundance in fruits and vegetables and any bulk diet, rough or bland, is composed chiefly of these items.

Moreover, some of these fruits and vegetables, notably apples, oranges, carrots and beets, also give you pectin. Pectin forms smooth, soothing bulk by absorbing a considerable amount of fluids.

When roughage is needed, eating raw or cooked fruits and vegetables quite often does the trick.

Bland Diet

For the bland diet, the vegetables can be pureed and fruits can be stewed. They give you bulk and are tasty at the same time.

Whole grains also contain considerable cellulose and should be eaten frequently. In addition to cellulose, they contain vitamin B complex.

To make sure that all of this cellulose adds up to a lot of bulk, you must consume between eight and ten glasses of fluids per day.

Other Sources

Of course, all of this doesn't have to be water. You will get some of the needed liquids by drinking milk, coffee, tea and soft drinks. You also will get much of the fluid you need from the foods you eat.

So it isn't necessary to drink water all day long to insure an adequate intake of liquids.

Tastes Good

I'm not much of a cook, but dietitians tell me that you can make these bulk foods very appetizing. For example, they say you can core apples, stuff them with dates and bake them in orange juice.

Or you can serve boiled beets in a sauce of orange juice combined with butter, sugar and cornstarch.

Why, that sounds good enough to eat!

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. E. M.: What is a "blocked" back and what treatment is required for this condition?

Answer: This is not a medical term. The colloquialism is unknown to me.

When Are You Most Honest?

By Hal Boyle

Total honesty is rare in humankind.

Philosophers may argue at what age or time the average man is truely most honest.

I have thought this problem through, and I think a man is most honest when he fights against the idea of getting out of bed in the morning to face the problems of the day.

I have read often in my lifetime of people who loved what they were doing so much that they could hardly bear to put their check against the pillow because tomorrow would be so exciting.

There must be people like this. But in a crowded life I have never met them. The lovers of life that I have met loved today and worried it to death—they took life as it was at the moment in their teeth.

Tomorrow was a century for others.

Certainly I admire the heroes of this world who hate the waste of sleeping and fret against the darkness that denies them the bright opportunity of tomorrow. But I am not one of them.

I am a lifelong and industrious coward myself, a penurious hoarder of now, and would like to stretch the happy leisure of the moment into an unimportant eternity.

In living you have a change of mornings.

Getting up in the morning has always seemed to me the biggest possible mistake a man can make in his lifetime. And he does it day after day, year after year.

So many mornings in a lifetime.

Can you remember sleeping in an upper floor and leaving the heavy quilt-soft warmth of bed to run downstairs in your long-handled underwear and spread your bottom to the red comfort of a stove in the living room?

Or to creep shivering down alone at a cold and lonely hour to light the fire in the stove? Or go into the basement and throw coal into a reluctant furnace and coax its grudging, overnight-dampered loyalty to bright, silent flame again? Remember how strange the house looked, so silent and waiting for the family noise?

These problems of arising in the morning are still only too familiar across the land.

But in the city where the same sun wonders the morning window, and a fellow has the climate of his choice by turning a knob, it seems to me his problem of getting up is no easier.

The today he loved has become yesterday, and the tomorrow he didn't know is now his today, and he has to get up and do something about it. All, as the poet says, is to do again.

It is human to hate to let go what you have known, and it is human not to face up to what you have to do.

Good night, day that I have loved. Hello, ugh, morning. Welcome, stranger, and make yourself at home.

Much as I doubt you now, you'll be a friend by nightfall. And then you will go away.

2 Ohio Youths Vie For Rhoades Honors

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's two representatives to a six-state competition for Rhodes scholarships are a Toledo West Pointer and a Williams College Senior from Columbus. Chosen by a five-member selections committee Wednesday were Stanley M. Kanarowski, 21, of Toledo and John H. Betz, 21, of Columbus.

Setback . . . and the Needle-Pushers

By George Sokolsky

It would be fun in bed, were it not that when one is so sick that he has to be rushed to a hospital, since there are always very good friends who are voluntary medical advisers and experts.

Nowadays, when one gets into a hospital, doctors and nurses are on hand to do whatever job needs to be done. Most are fairly good; some have great international reputations.

But neither the patient nor the patient's family is inclined to rush to some blue book of the elite to discover whether the doctor who is to do whatever needs to be done is universally regarded as the absolute nonpareil in his field.

Frankly, I do not know how that can be discovered, no two human beings agreeing on what is perfection about anything. Besides, having had a couple of rounds with troubles during the past five years, when parts are beginning to wear out, I find that it is impossible quite to know who is the absolutely greatest men in any particular field.

Those who kindly tout for the physician or surgeon of their own choice, often are substituting prejudice for knowledge.

I myself take things as they come. As I write this I have had to go without breakfast or lunch, although I am promised that I may have something to eat or drink "when it's all over."

Unfortunately, I do not know what "when it's all over" means. Apparently, it is the intention of the esoteric circle that surrounds me at the moment to do something. Well, I stopped writing this piece and they done it, as one might say, and it proved to be nothing much. So I am still here.

Every good friend has a doctor who is the world's greatest authority on this or that and wants to send him along to add his two bits to the complications.

I recall an incident when I lived in China when a beautiful child got herself a case of ordinary measles. Dozens of doctors were consulted, some of modern, some of ancient training, each pondering over the child like a United Nations diplomat dealing with the problem which is too alien for his intelligence.

Finally, a necromancer was called in to decide by the wind and weather and the signs of the times, which prescription should be used. The necromancer put all of them, those written in Chinese and those in English, in a circle and said his various sayings over them and, of course, the child died of a fever.

One often wonders why human beings act that way. For the truth of the matter is that when a doctor reaches the upper echelon of his profession, in whatever may be his specialty, he is likely to be as good as the next man.

People are cured of ailments all over the world and by physicians no one ever heard of. The layman only knows a lot of names, anyhow. His advice is of practically no value because he does not know why his friend is ill.

Also, the sick person is not likely to know. He simply knows that something hurts, but why it hurts, what makes it hurt, what do you do about it — most of us know nothing. And our guesses are worth nothing.

In a way, it is fun going through this ordeal of being checked. It is as though one were perfectly all right but somebody had to discover something wrong. Alas! As we grow more mature, some part does wear out and the best hope is that it is not an indispensable part.

Nowadays, this job of being "checked up" is mostly done by needles. The human becomes a pin-cushion. Stuff is taken out and put in all by needles which hurt and sting and give one the feeling that the needle-pushers enjoy what they do.

And it is always early in the morning, just as a fellow is getting into a good humor to meet the world again.

However, the needle-pushers seem to be less severe-looking than usual. They take life as it comes, too.

The years have passed and they know that as long as there will be folks to check, there will be needles to push. Who can want anything better to do for 40 hours a week?

Lorain Christmas To Be Merrier

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Christmas will be merrier in Lorain this year. The city's two largest industrial forces—at the Ford Motor Co. plant and the National Tube Division of U.S. Steel Corp. —are rolling in high gear.

Ford reached its peak production at the Lorain assembly plant this week. The 2,350 employes are working a six-day week and turning out 45 passenger cars and 15 trucks hourly.

National Tube recalled 300 workers this week and has its force up to 8,700 of a possible 10,500.

Good Paper Profit Realized At AT&T Stock Split Looms

NEW YORK (AP)—A newsboy from Port Chester, N.Y., an Oklahoma Indian princess and a University of California professor have one thing in common today — a sizable paper profit on their stock in American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Directors of the world's biggest public utility recommended a 3-for-1 stock split and a 10 per cent hike in the dividend Wednesday. It's the first stock split in company history and the first dividend change in 37 years.

Company directors said the split would strengthen the position of the company in obtaining large amounts of equity capital needed for expansion. They expect the split will widen the market for the stock.

The proposal sent AT&T stock skyrocketing on the New York Stock Exchange. An avalanche of buying orders forced suspension of trading. When trading resumed 1½ hours later, the stock was up $23 at $225, breaking a 27-year high. It closed at $223, up $21 on the day, on a volume of 110,200 shares.

AT&T closed at $223.75, up $23.75 on the Pacific Coast Exchange.

What does this mean to the newsboy, the Indian princess or the college professor? They probably won't take down their paper profits by selling. They've held their AT&T stock five years or more.

They are part of AT&T's 1,625,800 shareowners. This is the biggest corporate family in the world, greater than the combined total of owners in the three next biggest concerns: General Motors Corp., Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) and General Electric Co.

These three are among the 812,900 little investors who have held 15 shares or less of AT&T stock for five years or more.

If one of the trio, for instance, had purchased 10 shares at the 1954 low of $156 a share, it would have cost him $1,560, plus broker fees. In five years, he would have collected $450 in dividends.

On 10 shares he could have collected $2,230, less broker fees, at Wednesday night's New York closing price. That's a capital gain in five years of $670.

He probably wouldn't sell though. Because if he and the other stockholders approve the proposed stock-split at the next annual meeting on April 15, his 10 shares will become 30. And his dividends would increase from $90 a year on 10 shares to $99 a year on 30 shares.

Poston Is Named DiSalle Press Aide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Poston, legislative correspondent for the Dayton Daily News, will be press secretary for Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle.

In addition to serving as DiSalle's press secretary, Poston will do research and have other administrative duties in the new Democratic administration.

As press secretary in the new governor's office, Poston will be the successor to Hal W. Conefry, who has been Gov. C. William O'Neill's press secretary.

Law Students Offered Prize for Proposals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Some University of Cincinnati law school student will be able to pick up some extra money if he feels "there ought to be a law" and does something about it.

Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz of Juvenile Court has established an annual $100 prize for the student making the best proposal for new legislation in Ohio.

Hidden Costs of Food Faddism

Food faddism is spreading with an alarming speed throughout this country — and it is now costing 10 million Americans over $500 million a year.

That statement comes from the American Medical Assn. The situation is so serious that the AMA is joining with the Food and Drug Administration and the National Better Business Bureau in a concerted program to inform the public of the dangers of the food faddism racket.

The money cost, bad as it is, is much less serious than the potential cost in health. It is true that many of the food fad products contain harmless ingredients. But they become a menace to public health when the promoters make extravagant claims for their healing powers. As the AMA puts it, the buyer who relies on vitamin mineral concentrates and seaweed - cereal mixtures to cure unidentified ailments may face tragic results.

The "medicine men" who use the products as their stock in trade employ all manner of inducements to the gullible, including advertising and door - to - door peddling. The common sales pitch is to argue that nutrition is the cause of all health difficulties.

It is actually claimed that a product will cure ailments as diverse as ulcerated stomach, arthritis, neuritis, bad vision, high blood pressure, and so on. High-powered testimonials are drawn up alleging that the products brought on complete and miraculous cures after doctors and standard medical treatment had totally failed.

The only protection against food faddism is public knowledge. As an AMA release puts it: "No one needs these pseudo - health foods when he follows a normal, varied diet; and the most economical and best source of all the nutritious foods your body needs is your own garden, grocery store, and meat counter."

Diet and Health — Helpful Diet Advice To Keep Regularity

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

YOU NEED bulk in your diet to maintain regularity. Just about everyone knows that.

But you don't always need roughage. Even if you do, these foods can be just as appetizing as anything else on the dinner plate.

Some Tips

Let me pass on a few tips about regularity diets that you probably don't know.

For one thing, you may require either rough or gentle bulk, whichever your doctor advises. Bulk, you see, comes from a liberal consumption of liquids plus the cellulose of foods.

Lots of Roughage

Cellulose can be found in great abundance in fruits and vegetables and any bulk diet, rough or bland, is composed chiefly of these items.

Moreover, some of these fruits and vegetables, notably apples, oranges, carrots and beets, also give you pectin. Pectin forms smooth, soothing bulk by absorbing a considerable amount of fluids.

When roughage is needed, eating raw or cooked fruits and vegetables quite often does the trick.

Bland Diet

For the bland diet, the vegetables can be pureed and fruits can be stewed. They give you bulk and are tasty at the same time.

Whole grains also contain considerable cellulose and should be eaten frequently. In addition to cellulose, they contain vitamin B complex.

To make sure that all of this cellulose adds up to a lot of bulk, you must consume between eight and ten glasses of fluids per day.

Other Sources

Of course, all of this doesn't have to be water. You will get some of the needed liquids by drinking milk, coffee, tea and soft drinks. You also will get much of the fluid you need from the foods you eat.

So it isn't necessary to drink water all day long to insure an adequate intake of liquids.

Tastes Good

I'm not much of a cook, but dietitians tell me that you can make these bulk foods very appetizing. For example, they say you can core apples, stuff them with dates and bake them in orange juice.

Or you can serve boiled beets in a sauce of orange juice combined with butter, sugar and cornstarch.

Why, that sounds good enough to eat!

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. E. M.: What is a "blocked" back and what treatment is required for this condition?

Answer: This is not a medical term. The colloquialism is unknown to me.

When Are You Most Honest?

By Hal Boyle

Total honesty is rare in humankind.

Philosophers may argue at what age or time the average man is truely most honest.

I have thought this problem through, and I think a man is most honest when he fights against the idea of getting out of bed in the morning to face the problems of the day.

I have read often in my lifetime of people who loved what they were doing so much that they could hardly bear to put their check against the pillow because tomorrow would be so exciting.

There must be people like this. But in a crowded life I have never met them. The lovers of life that I have met loved today and worried it to death—they took life as it was at the moment in their teeth.

Tomorrow was a century for others.

Certainly I admire the heroes of this world who hate the waste of sleeping and fret against the darkness that denies them the bright opportunity of tomorrow. But I am not one of them.

I am a lifelong and industrious coward myself, a penurious hoarder of now, and would like to stretch the happy leisure of the moment into an unimportant eternity.

In living you have a change of mornings.

Getting up in the morning has always seemed to me the biggest possible mistake a man can make in his lifetime. And he does it day after day, year after year.

So many mornings in a lifetime.

Can you remember sleeping in an upper floor and leaving the heavy quilt-soft warmth of bed to run downstairs in your long-handled underwear and spread your bottom to the red comfort of a stove in the living room?

Or to creep shivering down alone at a cold and lonely hour to light the fire in the stove? Or go into the basement and throw coal into a reluctant furnace and coax its grudging, overnight-dampered loyalty to bright, silent flame again? Remember how strange the house looked, so silent and waiting for the family noise?

These problems of arising in the morning are still only too familiar across the land.

But in the city where the same sun wonders the morning window, and a fellow has the climate of his choice by turning a knob, it seems to me his problem of getting up is no easier.

The today he loved has become yesterday, and the tomorrow he didn't know is now his today, and he has to get up and do something about it. All, as the poet says, is to do again.

It is human to hate to let go what you have known, and it is human not to face up to what you have to do.

Good night, day that I have loved. Hello, ugh, morning. Welcome, stranger, and make yourself at home.

Much as I doubt you now, you'll be a friend by nightfall. And then you will go away.

2 Ohio Youths Vie For Rhoades Honors

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's two representatives to a six-state competition for Rhodes scholarships are a Toledo West Pointer and a Williams College Senior from Columbus. Chosen by a five-member selections committee Wednesday were Stanley M. Kanarowski, 21, of Toledo and John H. Betz, 21, of Columbus.

Setback . . . and the Needle-Pushers

By George Sokolsky

It would be fun in bed, were it not that when one is so sick that he has to be rushed to a hospital, since there are always very good friends who are voluntary medical advisers and experts.

Nowadays, when one gets into a hospital, doctors and nurses are on hand to do whatever job needs to be done. Most are fairly good; some have great international reputations.

But neither the patient nor the patient's family is inclined to rush to some blue book of the elite to discover whether the doctor who is to do whatever needs to be done is universally regarded as the absolute nonpareil in his field.

Frankly, I do not know how that can be discovered, no two human beings agreeing on what is perfection about anything. Besides, having had a couple of rounds with troubles during the past five years, when parts are beginning to wear out, I find that it is impossible quite to know who is the absolutely greatest men in any particular field.

Those who kindly tout for the physician or surgeon of their own choice, often are substituting prejudice for knowledge.

I myself take things as they come. As I write this I have had to go without breakfast or lunch, although I am promised that I may have something to eat or drink "when it's all over."

Unfortunately, I do not know what "when it's all over" means. Apparently, it is the intention of the esoteric circle that surrounds me at the moment to do something. Well, I stopped writing this piece and they done it, as one might say, and it proved to be nothing much. So I am still here.

Every good friend has a doctor who is the world's greatest authority on this or that and wants to send him along to add his two bits to the complications.

I recall an incident when I lived in China when a beautiful child got herself a case of ordinary measles. Dozens of doctors were consulted, some of modern, some of ancient training, each pondering over the child like a United Nations diplomat dealing with the problem which is too alien for his intelligence.

Finally, a necromancer was called in to decide by the wind and weather and the signs of the times, which prescription should be used. The necromancer put all of them, those written in Chinese and those in English, in a circle and said his various sayings over them and, of course, the child died of a fever.

One often wonders why human beings act that way. For the truth of the matter is that when a doctor reaches the upper echelon of his profession, in whatever may be his specialty, he is likely to be as good as the next man.

People are cured of ailments all over the world and by physicians no one ever heard of. The layman only knows a lot of names, anyhow. His advice is of practically no value because he does not know why his friend is ill.

Also, the sick person is not likely to know. He simply knows that something hurts, but why it hurts, what makes it hurt, what do you do about it — most of us know nothing. And our guesses are worth nothing.

In a way, it is fun going through this ordeal of being checked. It is as though one were perfectly all right but somebody had to discover something wrong. Alas! As we grow more mature, some part does wear out and the best hope is that it is not an indispensable part.

Nowadays, this job of being "checked up" is mostly done by needles. The human becomes a pin-cushion. Stuff is taken out and put in all by needles which hurt and sting and give one the feeling that the needle-pushers enjoy what they do.

And it is always early in the morning, just as a fellow is getting into a good humor to meet the world again.

However, the needle-pushers seem to be less severe-looking than usual. They take life as it comes, too.

The years have passed and they know that as long as there will be folks to check, there will be needles to push. Who can want anything better to do for 40 hours a week?

Lorain Christmas To Be Merrier

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Christmas will be merrier in Lorain this year. The city's two largest industrial forces—at the Ford Motor Co. plant and the National Tube Division of U.S. Steel Corp.—are rolling in high gear.

Ford reached its peak production at the Lorain assembly plant this week. The 2,350 employes are working a six-day week and turning out 45 passenger cars and 15 trucks hourly.

National Tube recalled 300 workers this week and has its force up to 8,700 of a possible 10,500.

Good Paper Profit Realized At AT&T Stock Split Looms

NEW YORK (AP)—A newsboy from Port Chester, N.Y., an Oklahoma Indian princess and a University of California professor have one thing in common today — a sizable paper profit on their stock in American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Directors of the world's biggest public utility recommended a 3-for-1 stock split and a 10 per cent hike in the dividend Wednesday. It's the first stock split in company history and the first dividend change in 37 years.

Company directors said the split would strengthen the position of the company in obtaining large amounts of equity capital needed for expansion. They expect the split will widen the market for the stock.

The proposal sent AT&T stock skyrocketing on the New York Stock Exchange. An avalanche of buying orders forced suspension of trading. When trading resumed 1½ hours later, the stock was up $23 at $225, breaking a 27-year high. It closed at $223, up $21 on the day, on a volume of 110,200 shares.

AT&T closed at $223.75, up $23.75 on the Pacific Coast Exchange.

What does this mean to the newsboy, the Indian princess or the college professor? They probably won't take down their paper profits by selling. They've held their AT&T stock five years or more.

They are part of AT&T's 1,625,000 shareowners. This is the biggest corporate family in the world, greater than the combined total of owners in the three next biggest concerns: General Motors Corp., Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) and General Electric Co.

These three are among the 812,900 little investors who have held 15 shares or less of AT&T stock for five years or more.

If one of the trio, for instance, had purchased 10 shares at the 1954 low of $156 a share, it would have cost him $1,560, plus broker fees. In five years, he would have collected $450 in dividends.

On 10 shares he could have collected $2,230, less broker fees, at Wednesday night's New York closing price. That's a capital gain in five years of $670.

He probably wouldn't sell though. Because if he and the other stockholders approve the proposed stock-split at the next annual meeting on April 15, his 10 shares will become 30. And his dividends would increase from $90 a year on 10 shares to $99 a year on 30 shares.

Poston Is Named DiSalle Press Aide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Poston, legislative correspondent for the Dayton Daily News, will be press secretary for Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle.

In addition to serving as DiSalle's press secretary, Poston will do research and have other administrative duties in the new Democratic administration.

As press secretary in the new governor's office, Poston will be the successor to Hal W. Conefry, who has been Gov. C. William O'Neill's press secretary.

Law Students Offered Prize for Proposals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Some University of Cincinnati law school student will be able to pick up some extra money if he feels "there ought to be a law" and does something about it.

Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz of Juvenile Court has established an annual $100 prize for the student making the best proposal for new legislation in Ohio.

Program Sunday At Sabina Church

SABINA — A one-act play, "Always Room for Moore," depicting a Christian farm family and their desire to have this particular Christmas just for themselves, will be the feature of the Christmas program presented by the Sabina Church of Christ Sunday evening.

The play also tells how the family has their plans upset when a missionary couple become stranded in the snow, and the family must come to their aid.

In the cast are David Huffman, Dorothy Huffman, John Hunt, Janice Houseman, Debbie Nunn, Millard Spradlin, Wilma Shank, Forrest Shank, Roy Stone, Lillie Riggs and Charles Breckel.

The opening song "O Come, All Ye Faithful," will be followed by an invocation by Darrell Huffman.

Also on the program will be a recitation by Mark Schantz; the song, "Away in a Manger" by the junior chorus under the direction of Freda Moore; Scripture and prayer by Carroll Breckel; a medley of Christmas carols by the senior and junior girl's chorus, hymn story of "Silent Night, Holy Night" by Dottie Ann Huffman; recitation by Marilyn Houseman and benediction by the Rev. Mr. Schantz.

Ushers for the evening's program will be Tommy Schantz, Danny Schantz, Tyrus Wical and Eugene Breckel.

Garden Hints

By FAYETTE GARDEN CLUB

Now is the time to choose a live Christmas tree. Visit a nursery where live evergreens are sold. It can be used indoors for the Christmas tree and then, after the holiday season, it can be planted outdoors. The selection can be made now, for delivery just ahead of Christmas.

Give the family a shade tree for a Christmas present. From now on, larger sized trees can be moved and set out readily by nursery men.

If you have a present to give to someone who gardens, there is nothing better than to make this a garden gift, such as flower seeds, roses, tools, garden gloves, a bird feeder, a garden book or a subscription to a garden magazine. Maybe the best way to give plants or seeds is in the form of a gift certificate.

AFTER THE HOLIDAY—Season is over, hot beds and cold frames can be made ready for spring and the sash put on.

MORE SUN FOR HOUSE PLANTS—Watch your house plants this month. Lanky, weak growth usually indicates insuffient light. Shift the plants to sunny windows if possible. Geraniums will not bloom unless they have good sunlight.

BIRDS—It is important to keep the bird feeders filled. With the ground covered with snow, one wonders how our little feathered friends survive. Corn meal mixed with suet, grains, sunflower seed and bread crumbs are a few suggestions to feed birds.

STRAWBERRIES—As soon as the weather moderates, check your strawberry beds to see if a proper mulch protects the plants. Some gardeners prefer oat straw but either oat or wheat straw is satisfactory. It should be new straw however. The straw mulch protects the buds from being killed over winter.

Lake Erie Ice 'Worst' In Years

Two vessels with damaged steering gear, the Henry R. Platt and Collinwood, needed assistance from Coast Guard cutters and commercial tugs. Both are being towed to Toledo, with the Platt expected there about noon today.

The Coast Guard said the cutter Ojibwa put in to Detroit for repair of minor damage sustained in the battle with drifting ice, which is 10 feet thick in spots.

The Ojibwa was assisting the giant 10,000-horsepower Mackinaw and the cutters Tupelo, Acacia, and Mesquite in forging channels through the ice.

Said Captain Oliver A. Peterson, ninth district chief of staff:

"The records indicate this is the greatest concentration of Coast Guard ice breaking assistance ever required in a single area during the December closing of navigation on the Great Lakes."

Several freighters have been maneuvering since last Sunday to escape ice in the Livingstone Channel at the southern end of the Detroit River, Pelee Passage, Middle Ground and near Toledo Harbor.

The Journey to Jesus

Magi Learn Bethlehem Is Their Goal; Tell King Herod Date Star Appeared

Editor's Note: After obtaining from Herod the place of birth of the Savior promised in Jewish tradition — and giving in return the time they first saw the Star —the Magi departed for Bethlehem with misgivings about Herod's intentions. This is the fourth in a five-part series on the Journey to Jesus.

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Propped up with cushions, King Herod the Great watched with canny eyes as the bejeweled curtains parted and the three Eastern philosophers were ushered before him.

They bowed in their accustomed manner, stretching forth their hands at knee level. After an exchange of amenities, Herod leaned forward, entwining his veined fingers. Perspiration beaded his forehead as he spoke:

The Magi, whether they realized it or not, were in a precarious position. Their report of a new-born prince had stirred up all Jerusalem, and caused consternation among authorities.

For less than this, Herod often had lopped heads. In the 36 years since the Roman Senate gave him Judea's throne, his reign was strewn with victims suspected of sedition, including sons, wife and other relatives.

Now a deathly sick, half-mad man of 69 still tortured with fear of insurrection and assassination plots, he had acted with characteristic vehemence to trace this latest unrest.

Before summoning the Magi to a private audience, he had obtained a full account of their claims from informers, and had ordered Judea's foremost scholars brought before him for questioning.

These had included leading members of the Jewish religious and civil court, the Sanhedrin — the chief priests and experts on religious law, the scribes — all of them obviously in fright.

Knowing Herod's blood-letting habits, they must have stood there white and rigid as he demanded they give details of the prophecied Christ. What do the books say? Where is this Godly king supposed to be born?

"In Bethlehem of Judea," a quaking counselor had said. "For thus it is written by the prophet: 'And thou Bethlehem art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a governor, that shall rule my people Israel'."

So nervous had the man been that he somewhat misquoted the Prophet Micah who had written 700 years before:

"But thou, Bethlehem, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth that is to be ruler in Israel; Whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting. . . .

"And he shall. . .be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be the peace."

In any case, Herod, after ascertaining the geographical locale foreseen for the event, turned his attention to the Magi, the Persian interlopers who had rekindled the whole business.

What steps should he take? To execute them could bring grave political repercussions, for they held royal rank, and carried "safe conduct" tablets from Persia's bellicose Parthian ruler, Phraates IV.

Next to the Romans, the Parthians then were the world's hautiest military power. Their famed horsemen and archers had overwhelmed many an elite corps and Phraates had exchanged tokens of peace with the Roman Emperor Augustus.

So Herod had them called ceremoniously into his presence.

They were regal-looking figures, straight and keen eyed, dressed in costly robes. "Atharvans," they were titled, "guardians of the fire," clerks of astronomy, said to have once been of Persia's tribe of Medes.

As the interview began, Herod restrained himself carefully. "Ye have spoken in the shops and streets of a new kingly son," he said, "yet there has been no issue of late in this household." He smiled grimly. "I can well vouchsafe for that."

Then he leaned forward, and in confidential tones, inquired at what time the star had appeared, for this would determine the moment of nativity, and the present age of the child.

The senior magus, Melchior studied Herod for a moment, then precisely set forth the month, day and hour of the heavenly sign. He also recounted the time that had elapsed since in preparation and travel.

Altogether it apparently had been more than a year since the star's appearance, as indicated by the length of the trip, and Herod's subsequent action against Bethlehem children up to 2 years of age.

His meeting with the Magi probably came near his final, disease-ridden year of life, for he died in 4 B. C., in a maniacal rage after learning the Magi had circumvented him. Thus, the likely date of the star was 6 B. C.

After getting this information, Herod, hoping to use the Magi's abilities to lead him to the specific child, advised them of his findings from the Jewish advisors — that the site was Bethlehem.

"Go and search diligently for the young child," Herod said ingratiatingly, "and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also."

The Magi departed, dubious about Herod's intent, but nevertheless with freshened certainty that they neared their objective. The latest turn of affairs was highly encouraging after the fruitless inquiries in Jerusalem.

"And, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was," Matthew's gospel relates. "When they saw the star,they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."

It was a short, five-mile ride from Jerusalem south to Bethlehem, and varying theories and traditions from olden times have come down about the star's second appearance.

Since it first appeared in the east, the earth's course around the sun could have left it obliterated in the daylight sky for many months before it appeared again in the westerly night sky.

Astronomy also has recorded "variable stars"—those that burst into splendor briefly only to fade and remain dormant for an extended period before exploding again into brilliance.

It also has been determined that the dog-star Sirius, brightest of the fixed stars, rose helaically before dawn—a strikingly rare sight —in 5 B. C. on the first of the Egyptian month Mesori, meaning "Presentation of the prince".

Some analysts note that the phrase saying the star "went before them," in its usual Testament sense, does not mean it guided them, but rather that it arrived there in advance of them.

Whatever the details, scripture is not written to instruct in astronomy or the physical sciences, but to guide men to the Lord himself, and the natural wonder—the light of the star—inevitably is less than the supernatural wonder—the light of Christ on earth.

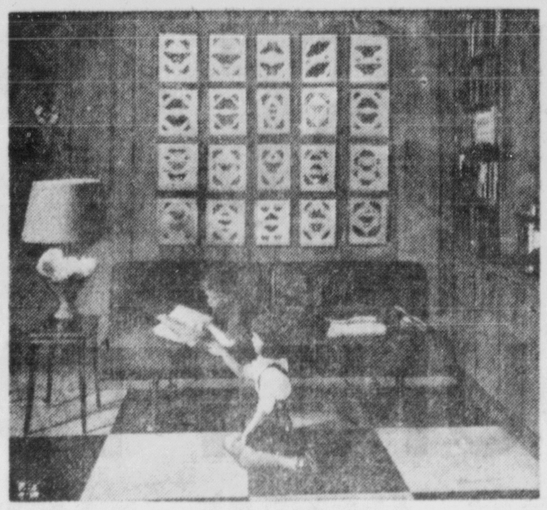

And whether it was a comet, a pillar of fire, the reappearance of a star, or the flaring of a new one that led them to that house, they moved, not alone at the behest of a handy, miraculous beacon, but as all men must, in the light of events, with grace.

For in God's intricate design, even Herod, bent on murder, had contributed to the illunination of the wise.

ALMOST 500 YEARS OLD, this picture shows the Magi on their way to Bethlehem. The woodcut is from John of Hieldesheim's story of the three kings, published in 1484. The rare book is carefully preserved at the Pierpont Morgan Library in New York.

Call that odd-ball room anything —family room, game room, hobby room, play room, rumpus room or guest room, even if nobody ever visits.

But are you getting your money's worth out of it? At $20 or so a square foot, a room is an investment and should not be left idle most of the time.

If Dad complains that the room is too noisy, if Mom can't knit for her stitch-dropping, and if the youngsters are fed up with the "keep quiet" routine, then the room doesn't fill that all-purpose bill.

* * *

THE attraction of a "family room" is that it doesn't belong to anyone in particular, that all can be happy in it,even together. Dad can lounge without shoes, reading his magazine,Mom can curl up with the sewing, Sis can play her record player and Junior can be a whizz with the tricycle.

If the family doesn't jell in the contentment of their relaxing room, then something is wrong. Take an inventory of the room and see if it fills the requirements for mutual satisfaction. . .

Is it din proof? Soundproofing helps keep noise to a minimum.

Is it safe? If windows go to the floor, parents may be ill-at-ease whenever junior rides the tricycle. In that case paint boundary areas on the floor or rope off a tricycle section.

* * *

IS IT easy on the upkeep? Wood paneling is ideal for walls because of its no chip, no scuff, no upkeep problem.

Is it crash proof? Instead of table and floor lamps, suspend your lights from the ceiling or from the walls, use large unbreakable ash trays.

Is it wrestle-proof? Noise-proof floors, perhaps rubber tile, are easy to keep up. Stubborn stains may be removed with steel wool and ordinary spilled snacks may be wiped up with a damp cloth.

Are furnishings child proof? Foam rubber is better usually than spring-type upholstery, if children are at the bounce-on-the-furniture stage. Strong, dark, washable fabric—denim, mattress ticking, muslin or what ever you have can be a boon when children share a playroom with adults.

* * *

PUT your cecorating imagination to work on bookshelves, walls and ceiling. At that level, the youngsters are no threat as a rule. Hang up Sis' fingerpainting projects or exhibit her miniature doll collection from wall shelves.

Frame Junior's butterfly specimens or conch shells. If Dad is a fancier of tropical fish, locate the aquarium in the book case or have it built into a wall.

The day you can relax in the room it is a success.

Handy Hints . .

Blanched almonds should always be halved (so they're wide but thin) before they are browned in butter to be served with sauteed fish fillets.

* * *

Spoons and forks accompanying bowls of jelly or sliced pickles should be placed beside the dishes, not in them, when you're setting the table.

* * *

Substitute a cup of grapefruit juice for a cup of the water called for when you are making up a package of lemon-flavored gelatin dessert.

* * *

Heat drained canned or thawed frozen grapefruit sections in a little butter and use as a garnish for broiled fish. Prepare pineapple rings or chunks the same way and team with ham

Magi Learn Bethlehem Is Their Goal; Tell King Herod Date Star Appeared

Editor's Note: After obtaining from Herod the place of birth of the Savior promised in Jewish tradition — and giving in return the time they first saw the Star —the Magi departed for Bethlehem with misgivings about Herod's intentions. This is the fourth in a five-part series on the Journey to Jesus.

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Propped up with cushions, King Herod the Great watched with canny eyes as the bejeweled curtains parted and the three Eastern philosophers were ushered before him.

They bowed in their accustomed manner, stretching forth their hands at knee level. After an exchange of amenities, Herod leaned forward, entwining his veined fingers. Perspiration beaded his forehead as he spoke:

The Magi, whether they realized it or not, were in a precarious position. Their report of a new-born prince had stirred up all Jerusalem, and caused consternation among authorities.

For less than this, Herod often had lopped heads. In the 36 years since the Roman Senate gave him Judea's throne, his reign was strewn with victims suspected of sedition, including sons, wife and other relatives.

Now a deathly sick, half-mad man of 69 still tortured with fear of insurrection and assassination plots, he had acted with characteristic vehemence to trace this latest unrest.

Before summoning the Magi to a private audience, he had obtained a full account of their claims from informers, and had ordered Judea's foremost scholars brought before him for questioning.

These had included leading members of the Jewish religious and civil court, the Sanhedrin — the chief priests and experts on religious law, the scribes — all of them obviously in fright.

Knowing Herod's blood-letting habits, they must have stood there white and rigid as he demanded they give details of the prophecied Christ. What do the books say? Where is this Godly king supposed to be born?

"In Bethlehem of Judea," a quaking counselor had said. "For thus it is written by the prophet: 'And thou Bethlehem art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a governor, that shall rule my people Israel'."

So nervous had the man been

that he somewhat misquoted the Prophet Micah who had written 700 years before:

"But thou, Bethlehem, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth that is to be ruler in Israel; Whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting. . . .

"And he shall. . .be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be the peace."

In any case, Herod, after ascertaining the geographical locale foreseen for the event, turned his attention to the Magi, the Persian interlopers who had rekindled the whole business.

What steps should he take? To execute them could bring grave political repercussions, for they held royal rank, and carried "safe conduct" tablets from Persia's bellicose Parthian ruler, Phraates IV.

Next to the Romans, the Parthians then were the world's hautiest military power. Their famed horsemen and archers had overwhelmed many an elite corps and Phraates had exchanged tokens of peace with the Roman Emperor Augustus.

So Herod had them called ceremoniously into his presence.

They were regal-looking figures, straight and keen eyed, dressed in costly robes. "Atharvans," they were titled, "guardians of the fire," clerks of astronomy, said to have once been of Persia's tribe of Medes.

As the interview began, Herod restrained himself carefully. "Ye have spoken in the shops and streets of a new kingly son," he said, "yet there has been no issue of late in this household." He smiled grimly. "I can well vouchsafe for that."

Then he leaned forward, and in confidential tones, inquired at what time the star had appeared, for this would determine the moment of nativity, and the present age of the child.

The senior magus, Melchior studied Herod for a moment, then precisely set forth the month, day and hour of the heavenly sign. He also recounted the time that had elapsed since in preparation and travel.

Altogether it apparently had been more than a year since the star's appearance, as indicated by the length of the trip, and Herod's subsequent action against Bethlehem children up to 2 years of age.

His meeting with the Magi probably came near his final, disease-ridden year of life, for he died in 4 B. C., in a maniacal rage after learning the Magi had circumvented him. Thus, the likely date of the star was 6 B. C.

After getting this information, Herod, hoping to use the Magi's abilities to lead him to the specific child, advised them of his findings from the Jewish advisors — that the site was Bethlehem.

"Go and search diligently for the young child," Herod said ingratiatingly, "and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also."

The Magi departed, dubious about Herod's intent, but nevertheless with freshened certainty that they neared their objective. The latest turn of affairs was highly encouraging after the fruitless inquiries in Jerusalem.

"And, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was," Matthew's gospel relates. "When they saw the star,they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."

It was a short, five-mile ride from Jerusalem south to Bethlehem, and varying theories and traditions from olden times have come down about the star's second appearance.

Since it first appeared in the east, the earth's course around the sun could have left it obliterated in the daylight sky for many months before it appeared again in the westerly night sky.

Astronomy also has recorded "variable stars"—those that burst into splendor briefly only to fade and remain dormant for an extended period before exploding again into brilliance.

It also has been determined that the dog-star Sirius, brightest of the fixed stars, rose helaically before dawn—a strikingly rare sight —in 5 B. C. on the first of the Egyptian month Mesori, meaning "Presentation of the prince".

Some analysts note that the phrase saying the star "went before them," in its usual Testament sense, does not mean it guided them, but rather that it arrived there in advance of them.

Whatever the details, scripture is not written to instruct in astronomy or the physical sciences, but to guide men to the Lord himself, and the natural wonder—the light of the star—inevitably is less than the supernatural wonder—the light of Christ on earth.

And whether it was a comet, a pillar of fire, the reappearance of a star, or the flaring of a new one that led them to that house, they moved, not alone at the behest of a handy, miraculous beacon, but as all men must, in the light of events, with grace.

For in God's intricate design, even Herod, bent on murder, had contributed to the illunination of the wise.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Another time-honored "institution" — the old wood pile or chip pile, has long since vanished from this community.

Before coal-burning became more or less general in this county, nearly every home, particularly in the rural areas had a woodpile adjacent to the house from which fuel was obtained to heat the houses and for cooking.

Big logs and masses of limbs of various sizes were hauled to the pile to be reduced to firewood for the open fireplaces or grates, and "stove wood" for use in the cooking stove in the kitchen. Wood houses later became coal houses.

Originally homes in the county were equipped with open fireplaces three to four feet in width and took wood almost as long as the fireplaces were wide.

The usual custom of building a fire in these big open hearths where for many years all of the family cooking and baking was done both winter and summer was to place half of a sizeable log at the back of the fireplace with the split side outward, then pile in smaller lengths of wood for the main fire.

Before andirons or dog irons were available for holding the sticks of wood in the fireplace, stones were used to retain the burning wood.

Many charred spots on the floor about the hearth were mute reminders of coals which popped out and probably would have burned the house if they had not been discovered in time.

Many early homes were destroyed in this manner, together with all of the earthly possessions the owners had except the clothes on their backs.

Usually during cold weather, a supply of wood to carry overnight or possibly through the day, was brought into the house and placed in a large "woodbox" where it was readily available for use as needed.

It usually fell to the lot of the older children to keep the woodbox replenished as well as to do their part toward converting the logs and limbs into proper lengths and sizes for burning.

Early log cabins had no other means of heating than the one big open fireplace, and it required a great deal of work to chop wood and later to saw and chop it to "keep the home fires burning."

But wood was abundant, and for a long time grew so near the settlers' doors that it was not even necessary to haul it to the woodpile. It was simply rolled or dragged there from the forest which hemmed in the homes like so many giants.

As coal was introduced, smaller fireplaces and then stoves were used for heating until the more modern furnaces were introduced a long, long time after wood-burning had almost ceased.

A lot of us still recall the hard work of sawing and chopping wood for use as fuel for cook stoves and those old open fire places — and later the Wonder stoves, the latter being a product of the Wonder Stove Co. here.

KILLED YELLOW RACCOON

One of those rare off-color raccoons which in this instance was almost yellow, was killed recently by Richard Garringer, county highway employe while hunting one night.

The yellow raccoon was one of three killed by Garringer and those with him in a single night, after the animals has been treed by hounds

The skin of the unusual animal has been attracting much attention among those who have seen it.

Some 12 or 15 years ago a resident of the county killed what was termed an albino raccoon, but it also was more yellow than white, so the present animal might come under the classification of albino, it is pointed out.

"LAMPLIGHTERS"

Fancy not having a single match in the house, and you have the situation which formerly confronted early Fayette Countians.

In fact matches were so scarce that a great many settlers if they ran out of fire, simply went to the nearest neighbor and got some glowing coals to carry back home.

This little incident indicates how neighbors depended upon each other to meet everyday problems of life and to live amid the primitive surroundings of their time.

It really meant something to have a neighbor and be neighborly in those days, and there was a great deal more of "love thy neighbor as thyself" practiced then than at present.

But what I really started out to tell you was about old "lamplighters", which originally were made of thin slivers of wood which would ignite readily.

Pine was preferred but not readily obtainable in this area, so other woods were used.

Later, as newspapers became more and more available (some of the early residents never saw a newpaper year in an year out, and could not read one if they had) "lamplighters" were made from strips of paper rolled into cylinders eight or 10 inches in length, with the large end crimped to prevent unrolling.

These were usually kept in a container on the mantel and when it became necessary to light a candle or kerosene lamp, one of the paper tapers was ignited from the open fire place and applied to the wick. Sometimes one paper taper would be used three or four times before being burned too close for further use.

Crime Season, too

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — In 1942 Joseph Skatula stuck a note in a bottle and left it in Big Goose Canyon deep in the Big Horn mountains of Northern Wyoming.

42-Member Cast To Present "Pajama Game" in February

HEADLINING CAST--Lead players in the presentation of "Pajama Game," Feb. 27 and 28, are (seated, left to right) Jane Davis as Mabel, Barbara Rose as Babe, and Ann Johnson as Gladys, and (standing) Chuck Hire as Hines, John Ellcessor as Prez, and Frank Terrell as Sid Soroken.

Results of the tryouts at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the Washington High School auditorium for "Pajama Game," the recent Broadway production to be presented February 27 and 28, placed six students in leading roles, and 36 others in supporting roles.

The story, from the novel "7½ Cents" by Richard Bissell, tells of a man having been hired as foreman in a pajama factory in the Midwest. His aims are to succeed where his predecessors have failed.

The situation is not set for smoothness, however, and difficulties, both romantic and commercial, arise. Romance, intrigue, conflict, and humor cast a delightful atmosphere for "Pajama Game," during which the business problem is solved, romantic knots are untangled and everyone in general is happy.

The cast, selected by Grover Baber, vocal music teacher at the high school, and Mrs. Gladys Thomas, choreographer, are: Frank Terrell as Sid Soroken; Phil Sanders as Mr. Hasler; Barbara Rose as Babe; Chuck Hire as Hines; Ann Johnson as Gladys; John Ellcessor as Prez; and Jane Davis as Mabel.

Other parts will be played by Beverly Eckle, Bev. Horney, Cora Lee Shaw, Sheryl Elliott, Larry Burnett, John Cambell, Max Millstead, Dick Smith, Jack Penwell and Jack Gillen.

The female dancers for the production are: Jowanda Wilson, Beverly Dawson, Ann McDonald, Paulette Pennington, Sandra Mickle and Marta Mickle;

Female chorus: Nancy Marting, Judy Lundberg, Jenifer Newbrey, Margerie Hurtt, Wanda Carpenter, and Hannah Case;

Male chorus: Jerry Phillips, Gilbert Crouse, David Reno, Randy Bolton, David Nungesser, James Kellough and Doug Bray.

"The results were terrific, it really surprised me to see the students, boys and girls both, so eager to try out," Baber said.

Nationalist Agent Sits In with Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese agent was present when the Chinese Communist party's Central Committee decided not to nominate Mao Tze-tung for re-election as president, a Taipei newspaper reported today.

The English-language China News, an independent daily, said the informer was present as a devoted, high-ranking member of the party.

The newspaper said the agent had news of the decision radioed to Taipei only hours after it was made.

Strike Enters 13th Day

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A Teamster Union strike against Loblaw, Inc. food markets entered its 13th day today. Sixty-two truck drivers, member of Local 377, struck Dec. 6 for higher wages.

New York Newspapers Still Struck

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner and three national and city mediation officials meet today to discuss the nine-day-old strike against nine city newspapers.

Peace talks broke down completely Wednesday. Group representing publishers and the striking Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union failed to agree on a resumption of negotiations as they met with federal mediators.

Presses at the nine papers have been still since shortly after the strike of deliverymen began Dec. 9 over wages and other contract issues.

The newspaper industry is losing an estimated 1½ million dollars a day in advertising and circulation revenues and in suspended wages of nearly 20,000 nonstriking but idle employes.

In a separate action, the New York Board of Trade called on President Eisenhower, Gov. Averell Harriman, Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and Wagner to intervene.

At Wednesday's brief joint meeting, the publishers held firm on their offer of a two-year, $7-a-week wage package.

The deliverers' membership turned down this offer when the strike began. Union negotiators agreed Tuesday to resubmit the offer, but were overruled in a membership meeting.

British Plan Payment On Debt Owed to U. S.

LONDON (AP) — The British government is to pay the full 187 million dollars in capital and interest due this year on its outstanding American and Canadian loans.

The decision was announced by Chancellor of the Exchequer Derick Heathcoat Amory Wednesday night.

The payments due Dec. 31 include $137,200,000 on the American loan, more than 37½ million on the Canadian loan and more than 5½ million in interest on previous deferments.

Miami Trace To Grant Additional Across-the-Board Teacher Raises

Plans for across-the-board salary increases for all teachers in the Miami Trace rural school system were disclosed Wednesday night at a meeting of the district board of education.

The raises, the amount to be determined at the board's January meeting, will be in addition to flat $100 increases approved last May. Both will become effective Jan. 1.

The board's action came during a conference with Harry Phillips, Jeffersonville principal, and Gordon McCarty, a teacher at that school, who discussed with board members the matter of salary adjustments for teaching personnel.

* * *

THE TWO faculty representatives were told that the board feels it is impractical to adopt a complete new salary schedule at this time because of financial uncertainties.

The first of these is the fact that Miami Trace district will lose a still unknown amount of State Foundation money with the expiration of a present state law, and the second is that the disposition of the next State Legislature toward solving financial problems confronting many Ohio schools cannot be ascertained at this time.

The board pointed out that until these uncertainties are resolved, it will not be possible to settle on a salary schedule which would be the best for all concerned and still within the income of the district.

* * *

THE ADDITIONAL flat salary increase was approved in order that teachers may benefit as soon as possible from the 2.1 mill operating levy approved by district voters in November.

The teacher representatives agreed that this is the best and most rational approach to the matter at the present time, and board members indicated that it should be possible to adopt a complete new salary schedule before contracts are signed for the 1959-60 school term. Contracts are offered beginning in May.

* * *

REPRESENTATIVES of the Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., presented a new insurance plan which would provide a monthly income for teachers who might become disabled.

Board members indicated interest in the plan, which they feel is offered at reasonable cost, but agreed to consult Wilbur Snapp, their agent of record, to consider other types of disability insurance which may be available. Approval of any plan would put the insurance on an optional basis.

Mrs. Senath Thompson, board clerk, reported that she is billing non-residents of the district who send their children to Miami Trace schools on a tuition basis and who are in arrears.

State law makes tuition billing and collections the clerk's responsibility.

DiSalle Lauds Work Of 'Old Newsboys'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle, a one-time newsboy himself, was the main speaker Wednesday night at the annual banquet of the Old Newsboys Goodfellow Assn.

The organization is sponsoring a special edition newspaper sale Friday to raise $50,000 for Toledo's needy.

DiSalle said that if the sincere charitable attitude of the Old Newsboys could be applied to the welfare needs of Ohio and the nation, many of the problems of the less fortunate would be solved.

3 Muskingum Youths Fined In Bomb Scare

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — Three Muskingum College students have been fined in Mayor's Court here on charges stemming from a note that touched off a bomb scare in two girl's dormitories.

Charged with sending a threatening letter through the mails, a misdemeanor, were Derke Esler, 21, of Tarentum, Pa.; Tom Earley 19, of Dover, Ohio, and Terry Schoener, 25, of Pittsburgh.

Esler, a sophomore, admitted the charge and was fined $50 and costs Wednesday night by Mayor J. K. Taylor. Earley, also a sophomore, and Schoener, a junior, denied the charge but were found guilty and fined $25 each.

Authorities evacuated both dormitories Nov. 18. Muskingum officials received a note made up from letters clipped from a magazine. The note said in part: "Prepare for eternity. A bomb is going to explode at 11 a.m."

Authorities described the incident as strictly a prank.

Jailed Cleric Granted Year Leave of Absence

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Rev. Maurice McCrackin has been granted a year's leave of absence as director of Findlay Street Neighborhood House, a community center in Cincinnati's Negro West End.

U. S. Fowler, chairman of the Neighborhood house board, said the action was taken so the public and the Rev. Mr. McCrackin, the jailed pacifist minister, would know "he still has a job with us when he returns."

New Cardinals Get Red Hats In Moving Medieval Rites

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Amid glittering and moving medieval pageantry, Pope John XXIII today placed the red hats of their high office over the heads of 20 of the 23 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

More than 35,000 cheering persons filled the vast Basilica of St. Peter for the glittering public consistory, the climactic event in the ceremonies this week which have increased the College of Cardinals to 74 men, largest in history.

The new cardinals approached the papal throne singly, hands folded in prayer. Their bright scarlet trains trailed nine feet behind across the green velvet carpet.

Tenth in order was one of the two new American cardinals, Archbishop Richard James Cushing of Boston. The other, Archbishop John O'Hara of Philadelphia, was 13th.

Each of the new princes of the church knelt quickly, kissed the Pope's slipper and then his hand. Each time the pontiff bent low to touch cheeks with the new member of the Sacred College.

Then for each, Pope John repeated this solemn charge in Latin:

"For the praise of Almighty God and the honor of the Holy Apostolic See, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to the shedding of your blood, in making our holy faith respected, in securing peace for Christian people, and in promoting the welfare of the Roman Church. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

While the Pope spoke, two assistants held one of the broad-brimmed, flat-topped hats — the galero — over the head of the new cardinal.

The ceremony proceeded quickly, lasting about a minute for each cardinal. The vast throng was hushed and the pontiff's strong voice rang through the basilica.

Each cardinal moved away without his red hat. They will be delivered later in the day and will never again appear in public until the owners are dead. When a cardinal dies, his hat is placed on his catafalque and then suspended from the ceiling of his cathedral.

ONCE UPON A CHRISTMAS EVE

By WILLIAM RITT

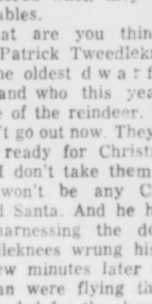

SANTA CLAUS has decided to give his faithful reindeer team a much-needed and long-overdue winter vacation at this Christmas Time. So, at his request, Santa's good friend, Professor A. B. C. Dee, E., F. G. (Engineer, First Grade), has built a jet-propelled sleigh. Gathered to watch Santa make a trial flight are his little Eskimo friend, Eski; Mister Weatherbee, the Weather Maker; Professor Dee, Doc Dickery and his mouse, Little Squeaker; and Mrs. Claus.

SANTA climbs into the jet-sleigh, closes the hatch and turns on the power. Zoo-o-o-m! Away goes the great gleaming vehicle, high into the ice-cold blue of the Arctic sky while, down below, little Eski waves a fond goodby.

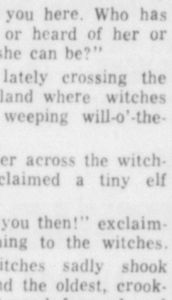

MANY MILES above the earth Santa, becoming drowsy, turns on the automatic pilot so he can take a nap. But—what's this? The nose cone of an old earth satellite comes speeding into the jet sleigh's path! (To Be Continued)

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Esteban is seeking help to stop the professor from releasing poison gas on Christmas Day which will kill all the fairies. With the help of the Snuke, he has reached Santa Land. He runs toward Santa's house shouting, "Santa! Santa!"

CHAPTER THIRTEEN
SEARCH FOR THE HAG

Santa stared at the boy who came running toward him across the snow.

"It's Esteban!" he exclaimed. "The elf who lost his wings! What has happened? You look frightened half to death!"

"Oh, I am," gasped Esteban. "I have terrible news. There is hardly any time left and there is a man who is going to destroy all fairies on Christmas Day!"

Then Esteban told Santa the whole story of the Hangdog Hag's spell and the professor's plan to destroy them all.

"How awful!" cried Santa.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" he murmured, puffing distractedly on his pipe. Suddenly he turned away. "Come, there is no time to lose!"

"Where are we going?"

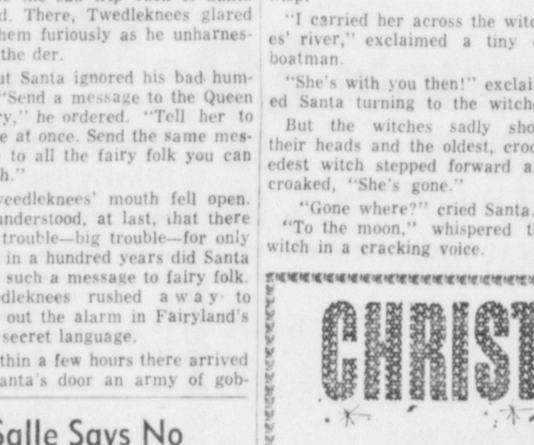

"To the home of the Hangdog Hag," said Santa. "We must persuade her to break the spell over the professor's wife."

He strode away with Esteban at his heels. "Hitch up the sleigh!" he ordered when they arrived at the stables.

"What are you thinking of?" cried Patrick Tweedleknees, who was the oldest dwarf in Santa Land and who this year was in charge of the reindeer. "The deer mustn't go out now. They must rest to be ready for Christmas!"

"If I don't take them out now there won't be any Christmas," replied Santa. And he himself began harnessing the deer while Tweedleknees wrung his hands.

A few minutes later Santa and Esteban were flying through the sky headed for the home of the Hangdog Hag. They arrived, at last, on the very tip-top of a faraway mountain where a one-room shack stood silent and alone.

Santa told the people of Fairyland about the great peril.

But alas !When they opened the door they found the shack empty.

"She's been long gone," groaned Santa. "And it looks as though she doesn't plan to return."

It was true. Every piece of furniture had been smashed. The windows were broken and even the brooms were lying in shreds.

Heavy-hearted, Santa and Esteban returned to the sleigh and made the sad trip back to Santa Land. There, Twedleknees glared at them furiously as he unharnessed the der.

But Santa ignored his bad humor. "Send a message to the Queen Fairy," he ordered. "Tell her to come at once. Send the same message to all the fairy folk you can reach."

Tweedleknees' mouth fell open. He understood, at last, that there was trouble—big trouble—for only once in a hundred years did Santa send such a message to fairy folk. Tweedleknees rushed away to send out the alarm in Fairyland's own secret language.

Within a few hours there arrived at Santa's door an army of gobblins and imps and witches and elves. Santa told them the story of their great peril and the little folk listened and trembled.

"What shall we do?" they whispered.

"We must find the Hangdog Hag," said Santa. "That is why I have called you here. Who has seen the Hag or heard of her or knows where she can be?"

"I saw her lately crossing the moors to the land where witches live," said a weeping will-o'-the-wisp.

"I carried her across the witches' river," exclaimed a tiny elf boatman.

"She's with you then!" exclaimed Santa turning to the witches.

But the witches sadly shook their heads and the oldest, crookedest witch stepped forward and croaked, "She's gone."

"Gone where?" cried Santa.

DiSalle Says No Offer Made Porter

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle today confirmed a report that he has not offered the post of state highway director to Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer.

DiSalle said he had talked to Porter "but I offered him nothing specific. We did discuss some posts."

The Cleveland News said DiSalle had offered Porter a post carrying an annual salary of $13,000.

DiSalle said his talk with Porter did not get down to specific salaries.

In Cleveland, Porter declined to discuss the matter. But he admitted he plans to ignore an invitation for a meeting with DiSalle in Toledo this week.

The total Greenfield distribution will be $234,664.96.

Ex-East Liverpool Aide Seeks Job as Policeman

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Dan Maggianetti, who resigned Monday as East Liverpool safety-service director, wants to return to the Youngstown police force. He filed an application with the city Civil Service Commission Wednesday. Maggianetti, a lieutenant on the force, took a leave of absence last January to accept the $9,000-a-year East Liverpool position. Under Civil Service rules he may be reinstated as a Youngstown patrolman at $5,041 a year.

Firms Debate Problems of Yule Holiday

Business Gifts To Customers, Office Parties Discussed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With Christmas just a week away business firms have lined up today pro and con on the perennial holiday problems:

Business gifts to customers and suppliers; office parties; how long a holiday to grant; and what to give whom.

More office workers this year will have the day after Christmas off — possibly on the theory that they wouldn't do much work on Friday anyway.

But most banks will stay open and so will department stores. Many factories report that the recent increase in new orders makes it necessary for them to produce Friday.

The employes of the federal government and some state governments will have a four-day weekend. Stock exchanges will be closed Friday.

More people are saying bad things about office parties this year — both employes and employers. But the number of firms dropping them seems not to be large. A record number, however, are reported holding them outside the office itself.

The practice of business firms giving presents also is under more fire this year, although few companies dropping the practice give the recent recession and its squeeze on earnings as the reason.

Some big companies are telling others they prefer their employes not receive gifts, and some are warning their workers about what they should accept and under what conditions. The practice of giving to charities in the name of friends of the business seems to be growing.

Gifts by business firms last year —including those to their own employes — has been estimated to have cost 288 million dollars. Some experts in the gift field predict a drop this year of around 4 per cent.

What to give is always a problem. While the average business gift has been estimated to be valued at $10, some lavish ones are being touted.

A Miami Beach club that has 100 business firms as members is urging them to give their customers or associates membership good for a weekend, a week, a month, or even a year.

Foreign producers are profiting by the gift giving customs of Americans, both business firms and individuals. Importers estimate that retail sales of foreign merchandise this Christmas will run 5 per cent higher than last year. Even foreign toys have been selling better, although total toy sales have been off this year in most parts of the country.

Some dealers in foreign cars report that many of these items — expensive as Christmas gifts go, are being bought for delivery next Friday.

Public Employes OKd To Join Union

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman ruled in an opinion to county commissioners today that all public employes have a right to join a union.

The opinion was asked by the commissioners after deputy dog wardens signed up with teamsters union Local 92 to be their bargaining agent. Paul P. Meyer, union business agent, then approached the commissioners with wage demands and grievance procedures.

Putman said state law prohibits strikes by public employes but does not contain any restrictive feature about joining a union.

2 Ohio Hospitals Get Accreditation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of Ohio's mental hospitals have been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals in Chicago. They are the Mount Vernon State Hospital for mentally ill persons with tuberculosis, and the Cleveland Psychiatric Institute, formerly known as the Cleveland Receiving Hospital.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said this means the hospitals meet American Medical Assn. standards for medical care, medical facilities and administration.

Firms Debate Problems of Yule Holiday

Business Gifts To Customers, Office Parties Discussed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With Christmas just a week away business firms have lined up today pro and con on the perennial holiday problems:

Business gifts to customers and suppliers; office parties; how long a holiday to grant; and what to give whom.

More office workers this year will have the day after Christmas off — possibly on the theory that they wouldn't do much work on Friday anyway.

But most banks will stay open and so will department stores. Many factories report that the recent increase in new orders makes it necessary for them to produce Friday.

The employes of the federal government and some state governments will have a four-day weekend. Stock exchanges will be closed Friday.

More people are saying bad things about office parties this year — both employes and employers. But the number of firms dropping them seems not to be large. A record number, however, are reported holding them outside the office itself.

The practice of business firms giving presents also is under more fire this year, although few companies dropping the practice give the recent recession and its squeeze on earnings as the reason.

Some big companies are telling others they prefer their employes not receive gifts, and some are warning their workers about what they should accept and under what conditions. The practice of giving to charities in the name of friends of the business seems to be growing.

Gifts by business firms last year —including those to their own employes — has been estimated to have cost 288 million dollars. Some experts in the gift field predict a drop this year of around 4 per cent.

What to give is always a problem. While the average business gift has been estimated to be valued at $10, some lavish ones are being touted.

A Miami Beach club that has 100 business firms as members is urging them to give their customers or associates membership good for a weekend, a week, a month, or even a year.

Foreign producers are profiting by the gift giving customs of Americans, both business firms and individuals. Importers estimate that retail sales of foreign merchandise this Christmas will run 5 per cent higher than last year. Even foreign toys have been selling better, although total toy sales have been off this year in most parts of the country.

Some dealers in foreign cars report that many of these items — expensive as Christmas gifts go, are being bought for delivery next Friday.

Public Employes OKd To Join Union

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman ruled in an opinion to county commissioners today that all public employes have a right to join a union.

The opinion was asked by the commissioners after deputy dog wardens signed up with teamsters union Local 92 to be their bargaining agent. Paul P. Meyer, union business agent, then approached the commissioners with wage demands and grievance procedures.

Putman said state law prohibits strikes by public employes but does not contain any restrictive feature about joining a union.

2 Ohio Hospitals Get Accreditation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of Ohio's mental hospitals have been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals in Chicago. They are the Mount Vernon State Hospital for mentally ill persons with tuberculosis, and the Cleveland Psychiatric Institute, formerly known as the Cleveland Receiving Hospital.

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said this means the hospitals meet American Medical Assn. standards for medical care, medical facilities and administration.

Milledgeville News

BY MRS. JOHN MORGAN

JASPER HD CLUB

Mrs. Willis Fent, president, conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Charles Hiser called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Fent gave a report about attending the "Christmas at Home" party held in Washington C.H. recently.

Secret pals for last year were revealed and this created much fun and excitement. New names were drawn for secret pals for the coming year.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Floy Ferguson, Mrs. Jess Crago, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Russell Klontz, Mrs. Willis Fent, Mrs. Eugene Klontz, Mrs. Hoyt Bock, Mrs. Harry Hiser, Mrs. John Sheeley, Mrs. Ralph Minton, Mrs. Eugene McLean and Mrs. Charles Hiser.

JUNIOR MYF MEETS

Since this was a party, there was no business. Games were enjoyed during the evening and the group sang several Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Rodney Bookman.

Members present were Helen and Betty Anderson, Penny Rankin, Darrell and Wanda Ankrom, Barbara Gillette, Billy, Barbara and Helen Williamson, Carol Altop, Dan Young, Cheryl Waddell, Becky Blair, David and Lynn Jenkins, Curtis Hiser and Sondra and Gerald Lee Merriman. Adults present were Mrs. Thomas Ankrom, Mrs. Bernice Crowe and Rev. and Mrs. Jarvis. Hazel and Joan Jarvis and Mrs. Rodney Bookman were guests.

YULE PROGRAM SUNDAY

A Christmas program will be presented at the Milledgeville Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Sunday. Russell Klontz, Sunday School Superintendent will be in charge of the program.

MYF TO GO CAROLING

A turkey supper for the Senior MYF members will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Rankin at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

The group will exchange gifts and later in the evening go caroling.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Harry Allen spent a few days last week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lincoln Allen and son, Scotty, in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garringer and daughter, Ruth, of Jamestown were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Morgan.

Mr. Gary Chapman, Xenia, spent Sunday with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fent.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Bock and Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Sanderson and daughters, Sandra and Linda, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wisbey in Hillsboro. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wisbey and son, Jerry, of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sigman and sons, Ralph Jr. and Charles of Athens, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creamer and children Bonnie, Barbara and Billy.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Garlough and Mrs. Lena Lemins of Springfield were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheeley and daughters, Ruth Ann and Helen Louise.

Mrs. Charles Palmer was released from White Cross Hospital and taken to her home, near Newark, in the Henderson ambulance. Her daughter and grandson, Mrs. John Morgan and son, J.P., went in the ambulance with her and remained at her home with her over the weekend. Mrs. Palmer is recovering as well as can be expected after going into surgery the second time.

Soldier of the Month

ROBERT E. SCOTT

Army Sp-4c Robert E. Scott, a 1955 graduate of Washington High School, has been named Soldier of the Month for the U. S. Army Ordnance Group in the Ryukyus Islands, off the coast of Japan.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Scott, Columbus, he entered the Army after his graduation from high school and arrived in the Far East in March of 1956. Specialist Scott, assigned to the auto support branch of ordnance, was selected for soldierly appearance, knowledge, performance of duties and military courtesy.

WCH Postal Cancellations Trailing '57

Increased postage which went into effect earlier this year is reflected in the sending of Christmas cards. A great many more cards are being sent, unsealed at the 3-cent rate than were formerly sent under the 2-cent rate for unsealed cards.

This was one of the observations of Postmaster Clark Wickensimer as he surveyed the great volume of mail now passing into and out of the Washington C. H. office.

Wickensimer said Wednesday that total cancellations for December are running about 10,000 behind those of last December on the same date.

* * *

THE TOTAL NUMBER of cancellations in the local office during December last year reached 504,000 and present indications are the total number for December of this year eventually will be near that figure.

On Dec. 16 this year, total cancellations at the office here reached 45,900. Dec. 16 last year was the peak day with 50,810 cancellations.

However total years receipts at the office here are expected to run around $180,000 as compared with $168,871 during 1917.

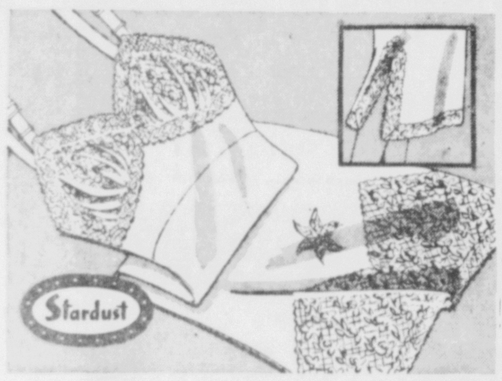

Part of this greater amount is due to increased postal rates, but it also reflects a healthy grow in business here during the year.

* * *

WICKENSIMER has seen to it that extra clerks and carriers have been employed to insure prompt and smooth handling of the big holiday mail which will continue until Christmas Day.

Milledgeville News

BY MRS. JOHN MORGAN

JASPER HD CLUB

Mrs. Willis Fent, president, conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Charles Hiser called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Fent gave a report about attending the "Christmas at Home" party held in Washington C.H. recently.

Secret pals for last year were revealed and this created much fun and excitement. New names were drawn for secret pals for the coming year.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Floy Ferguson, Mrs. Jess Crago, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Russell Klontz, Mrs. Willis Fent, Mrs. Eugene Klontz, Mrs. Hoyt Bock, Mrs. Harry Hiser, Mrs. John Sheeley, Mrs. Ralph Minton, Mrs. Eugene McLean and Mrs. Charles Hiser.

JUNIOR MYF MEETS

Since this was a party, there was no business. Games were enjoyed during the evening and the group sang several Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Rodney Bookman.

Members present were Helen and Betty Anderson, Penny Rankin, Darrell and Wanda Ankrom, Barbara Gillette, Billy, Barbara and Helen Williamson, Carol Altop, Dan Young, Cheryl Waddell, Becky Blair, David and Lynn Jenkins, Curtis Hiser and Sondra and Gerald Lee Merriman. Adults present were Mrs. Thomas Ankrom, Mrs. Bernice Crowe and Rev. and Mrs. Jarvis. Hazel and Joan Jarvis and Mrs. Rodney Bookman were guests.

YULE PROGRAM SUNDAY

A Christmas program will be presented at the Milledgeville Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Sunday. Russell Klontz, Sunday School Superintendent will be in charge of the program.

MYF TO GO CAROLING

A turkey supper for the Senior MYF members will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Rankin at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

The group will exchange gifts and later in the evening go caroling.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Harry Allen spent a few days last week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lincoln Allen and son, Scotty, in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garringer and daughter, Ruth, of Jamestown were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Morgan.

Mr. Gary Chapman, Xenia, spent Sunday with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fent.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Bock and Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Sanderson and daughters, Sandra and Linda, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wisbey in Hillsboro. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wisbey and son, Jerry, of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sigman and sons, Ralph Jr. and Charles of Athens, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creamer and children Bonnie, Barbara and Billy.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Garlough and Mrs. Lena Lemins of Springfield were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheeley and daughters, Ruth Ann and Helen Louise.

Mrs. Charles Palmer was released from White Cross Hospital and taken to her home, near Newark, in the Henderson ambulance. Her daughter and grandson, Mrs. John Morgan and son, J.P., went in the ambulance with her and remained at her home with her over the weekend. Mrs. Palmer is recovering as well as can be expected after going into surgery the second time.

Soldier of the Month

ROBERT E. SCOTT

Army Sp-4c Robert E. Scott, a 1955 graduate of Washington High School, has been named Soldier of the Month for the U. S. Army Ordnance Group in the Ryukyus Islands, off the coast of Japan.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Scott, Columbus, he entered the Army after his graduation from high school and arrived in the Far East in March of 1956. Specialist Scott, assigned to the auto support branch of ordnance, was selected for soldierly appearance, knowledge, performance of duties and military courtesy.

WCH Postal Cancellations Trailing '57

Increased postage which went into effect earlier this year is reflected in the sending of Christmas cards. A great many more cards are being sent, unsealed at the 3-cent rate than were formerly sent under the 2-cent rate for unsealed cards.

This was one of the observations of Postmaster Clark Wickensimer as he surveyed the great volume of mail now passing into and out of the Washington C. H. office.

Wickensimer said Wednesday that total cancellations for December are running about 10,000 behind those of last December on the same date.

* * *

THE TOTAL NUMBER of cancellations in the local office during December last year reached 504,000 and present indications are the total number for December of this year eventually will be near that figure.

On Dec. 16 this year, total cancellations at the office here reached 45,900. Dec. 16 last year was the peak day with 50,810 cancellations.

However total years receipts at the office here are expected to run around $180,000 as compared with $168,871 during 1917.

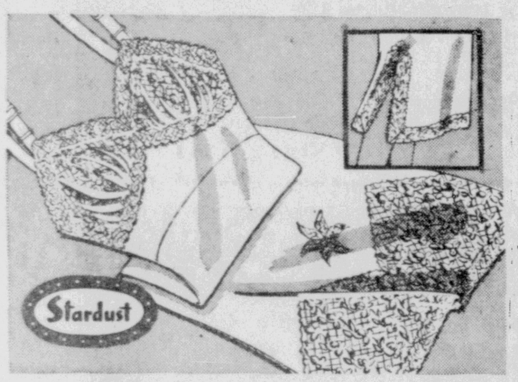

Part of this greater amount is due to increased postal rates, but it also reflects a healthy grow in business here during the year.

* * *

WICKENSIMER has seen to it that extra clerks and carriers have been employed to insure prompt and smooth handling of the big holiday mail which will continue until Christmas Day.

Browns' Problems Do Not Include Morale Question

Asked about the mental attitude of the Cleveland Browns, who are sharpening up their attack for Sunday's do-or-die game against the New York Giants, Brown said: "It's one thing I'm not worried about.

Brown joined the Giants in hoping for a dry field in Yankee Stadium, and his reasoning sounded similar to that of Vince Lombardi, offensive coach for the Giants.

"We have more team speed in my opinion so a bad field hurts us more," said Brown. "I believe the Giants are a shade bigger."

Lombardi, on the other hand, told reporters in New York the Giant offense 'is built more on quick cuts rather than power. The heavy going was made to order for (Jimmy) Brown with the heavy middle of the Cleveland line."

Asked if any major changes are contemplated by the Browns, Coach Brown remarked:

"We're certainly not going to panic or go berserk because we lost a football game. We're making adjustments and some changes as we always do."

There was no sign of dejection in the Browns' dressing quarters at League Park, where practice sessions are held. The feeling of the team may have been best expressed by Ray Renfro, veteran pass receiver from Texas.

"I'd like to be playing them this afternoon," said Renfro. "I guess I've never felt so bad after a football game.

"It was tough after the championship loss in Detroit last season. This time, though, we're getting another chance." The Browns must win Sunday to take the Eastern Division title and get into the National Football League championship game against the Baltimore Colts Dec. 28.

Another player chimed in: "With that title game money riding on this one don't worry about the spirit of this squad.

Brown said last Sunday's game, won 13-10 by the Giants, "probably was one of our best efforts."

"Down deep," said Brown, "I still think we won. The boys feel the same way. We know we should have had the football after that fumble. That's part of the game we're in, though, and we accept it, get it out of our minds and go on."

The "fumble" Brown referred to was called an incomplete pass by head linesman Charley Berry. Brown says Frank Gifford caught Chick Conerly's pass, then dropped it. Walt Michaels of the Browns fell on the ball. On the next and last down Pat Summerall of the Giants booted the 49-yard field goal that won the game.

"Last Sunday we didn't get the break we waited for," said Brown. "but maybe it will come this Sunday. This game takes funny twists."

Who is the Giants' best runner? Best passer? Best punter? It is one and the same man — Don Chandler.

Chandler carried once this year on a fake punt against Baltimore and gained 15 yards. That stands as his average for the season. He passed once and completed it for a gain of 27 yards and a 1.000 percentage. The average for his 65 punts is 44 yards, second only to Washington's Sam Baker in the National Football League.

Although Coach Jim Lee Howell doesn't count on Chandler to do much running or throwing Sunday against Cleveland in the playoff for the eastern division title, he does count heavily on his punting.

Chandler is an Oklahoma boy who went to Florida to play college and a halfback at Florida under Bob Woodruff.

As a pro, Chandler seldom does anything but kick. But he always has the option from Howell to run on his own if there is a run open. Giant fans were as startled as the Baltimore staff when he faked a punt and ran against the Colts.

"I have been kicking a football as long as I can remember," he said. "I don't remember who taught me. It just seemed to come naturally. . ."

Chandler's longest punt this year was a 65-yard boot against Pittsburgh. He did kick one 79 yards from the line of scrimmage in an exhibition game.

Junior Game Won By Bloomingburg

The lineups and points scored were:

Bloomingburg — Roberts 2, Redd 5, Weaver 9, Reed, Craig 4, Carman 2, Harris 4, Knisley 8, Evans 7 and Johnson 2.

5 County Teams To Play Friday

League Lead at Stake In One of Games

After a disastrous Tuesday night for three Fayette County cage teams, all five of them will hit the hardwood Friday night with hopes of breaking the defeat jinx that has dogged most of them all season.

Two of Friday night's games will be league encounters and the top spot is at stake in one of them.

New Holland's Bulldogs, newcomers to the league this year, will be the only team involved in a non-league scrap, with the boys from Mt. Sterling playing on the New Holland floor.

The big game of the evening will bring together the No. 1 Jeffersonville Tigers and the No. 2 Madison Mills Warriors on a larger, and neutral, court at Bloomingburg.

If the Tigers, with a 3-0 league record, win this one, they will tighten their grip on the lead. If the Warriors, with a 2-1 league record, win, they can come up on even terms with the Tigers at the front of the race.

* * *

WHILE the Tigers and Warriors are battling on the Bloomingburg floor, the Bulldogs will be at Good Hope tangling with the Mad Anthonys. Although the Bloomingburg outfit has won only two of eight games this season and the Good Hope outfit only one of nine, the Bulldogs appear to have the edge because of the narrow margins of their defeats. The Bulldogs have lost four games by only 4 points or less.

This will be the first of the second two-game weekend in a row for the Bulldogs. On Saturday night they will go to West Jefferson to take on a team of unknown strength, because it plays in a different circuit.

What effect last Tuesday night's defeats will have on the Tigers, Mad Anthonys and New Holland Bulldogs remains to be seen Friday night — That's the attitude of the coaches. Coach George Greer of the Tigers went a bit further, however; he said he thought the 62 to 54 loss Tuesday night to Clarksville would put the spur to the aggressive spirit of the Jeffersonville boys.

FRIDAY NIGHT
Bloomingburg at Good Hope
Mt. Sterling at New Holland
Jeffersonville at Good Hope
(To be played at Bloomingburg)

McLean Resigns As Packer Pilot

Tribe Chief Readies Talks On Contracts

CLEVELAND (AP) — It's contract time for Cleveland Indians and general manager Frank Lane is busy today trying to get his players' signatures on agreements for next season.

Lane is in Cuba today trying to reach agreement with outfielder Minnie Minoso, who has a reputation as a hard bargainer. Minoso got a reported $40,000 and a new car for signing last year.

After Minoso there's infielder Vic Power in Puerto Rico. Power returned his contract unsigned. He will undoubtedly use his .312 batting average, highest among the Indians last season, as bargaining point.

Rocky Colavito batted .303 last season and was second in the American League with 41 home runs and 113 runs batted in. The rightfielder is asking $30,000 — twice as much as he received last year.

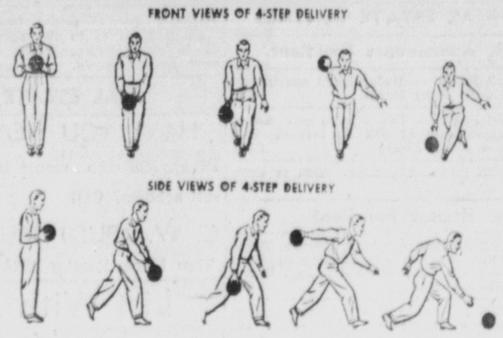

Already signed besides Martin, who is probably in the $20,000 a year bracket, were pitchers Cal McLish, Morrie Martin, Jake Strker. Infielders Billy Moran and Randy Jackson and outfielder Carroll Hardy.

TIPS from the TOP on BOWLING

SIDE VIEWS OF 4-STEP DELIVERY

By MARION LADEWIG
Six-Times National Match Game Champion

THE APPROACH is the coordination of movements of the hands and feet that bring you and the ball to the foul line in a smooth, continuous motion.

For a smooth approach, I advise a four-step delivery. While I use and advise the four-step approach, I do not, by any means, rule out more or less steps.

How many steps a bowler uses in the approach depends on the individual's requriements. Sometimes too few steps places a great strain on the arm. Sometimes too many steps only result in confusion.

In the standard four-step approach, the first step is taken with the right foot and should be fairly slow and not too long. As the body moves forward in a smooth, straight-line approach, with shoulders level and eyes on the target, the ball is pushed gently forward and then let come down of its own weight.

On the third step, the ball reaches the height of the backswing. Throughout the straight-line approach, body weight should be evenly balanced. This means, among other things, that your left arm (for right-handed bowlers) should be making a counterbalancing move just as it does in everyday walking.

Vasquez Disputes TKO for Perkins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eddie Perkins was beaming and Baby Vasquez screaming today in the aftermath of Perkins' second straight victory before the Wednesday TV fight cameras.

Perkins, 21-year-old Chicago lightweight comer, stopped Vasquez on a technical knockout at 2:40 in the seventh round of their lightweight scrap at Capital Arena Wednesday night.

Celtics Advance Into 1st Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celts find themselves in first place today in the National Basketball Assn's Eastern Division by using a much-maligned facet of play in the pro ranks — defense.

The Knicks and Celts were tied for first place before Wednesday night's only NBA action.

COLD-BLOODED ABOUT THEIR SKIING—Mabel Scott, a student at Memphis State University, keeps cool when she dates Marvin Shackelford (right) for water skiing on the Mississippi River. The couple skimmed along the snow-covered shore with only a few chunks of ice to dodge until Mabel's frogman suit developed a leak, so she abandoned sub-freezing perch.

Ohio Colleges Win 4 Out of 5

Out-of-State Foes Cop but 1 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robertson chalked up 39 points despite a jammed finger as the Bearcats took their fourth straight victory without defeat. He also grabbed 23 rebounds. The Bearcats made good on 45 of 86 field goal attempts for a 52 per cent average.

Dayton's Frank Case also had a wild scoring night, dropping in 37 points, the most he ever got in one game in his college career. It was Texas Southern's first loss in five starts.

Sophomore Jerry Galicki paced Toledo with 28 points as the Rockets posted their second straight Mid-American Conference victory. They stand 4-5 for the season.

Steubenville posted its 31st straight victory over a two-season span and its 58th in a row at home in routing Alliance. Steubenville is now 8-0 for the season.

In the only other interstate action, the University of Louisville handed Wittenberg its first loss of the season against four victories. Louisville had a 10-point margin at halftime but Wittenberg chopped away and the score at the final buzzer was 56-49. The losing Tigers outshot the Kentuckians from the field, posting a 42.6 per cent average to Louisville's 34.5 per cent.

In three games on the home front, Denison came up with its third straight Ohio Conference victory 77-68 over Ohio Wesleyan, Bluffton got its first Mid - Ohio League win 72-67 over Findlay, and Marietta, 3-2 for the season, handed winless Kenyon its fourth straight loss 71-51 in an Ohio Conference fray.

Ohio Boating Regulations Declared Illegal by Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A constitutional question has arisen regarding Ohio's inland boating regulations:

If an administrative branch of state government sets up regulations on the use of boats traveling inland waterways, can a person be held guilty of violating such rules?

Judge Charles B. Holtsberry of Licking County Common Pleas Court in Newark says it's a cardinal principle of representative government that the Legislature cannot delegate its power to make laws.

The one exception is when the Ohio Constitution, either expressly or by implication authorizes the delegation of such power to another body of goverment, the judge says.

Holtsberry cited an Ohio Supreme Court ruling that no act is punishable as a crime unless it is a violation of a properly adopted statute or ordinance.

Therefore, when the Ohio Department of Natural Resources sets up regulations on the speed, size and use of boats on inland waterways, and there is no law passed by the Legislature to this effect, can the regulations be legally enforced?

His ruling came in the case of James Pairan of Thornville, who was charged last June with reckless operation of a boat on Buckeye Lake near Newark, Pairan also thinks the regulations are unconstitutional and pleaded not guilty.

Herbert B. Eagon, Natural Resources director, had no immediate comment Wednesday on the judge's decision. But he said the department's park regulations affecting boating were set up under the Administrative Procedures Act, which has been upheld in previous court tests.

Longer Ohio Racing Card Is Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A study committee of the fact-finding Ohio Legislative Service Commission has recommended against extending the 44-day limit on horse race meetings.

The committee, in its report to the commission Wednesday, said lengthening of the yearly racing dates would improve the qualify of racing.

But it said such a move would allow more racing in every area but the Cleveland area and might be opposed for that reason.

It explained that meets now held at county fairgrounds could be moved to better equipped private tracks and those in the Cleveland area could be consolidated for the best facilities.

The committee's other recommendations, all of which will be submitted to the next Legislature for consideration, included:

Increasing the four - member State Racing Commission to five and boosting each member's pay from $3,200 to $4,200 a year; shifting from a part-time racing commission secretary to a full-time official whose pay would be increased from $2,500 to $7,500 annually; clarifying laws to make it definite that tracks in the same county or within 30 miles of each other can hold meets on the same day but at different times.

Browns Selling Title Tilt Tickets

Tickets for the Dec. 28 game went on sale Wednesday. Prices for reserved seats are $8 and $6. General admission seats, at $4, will go on sale the day of the game—if there is a game here.

Browns' Problems Do Not Include Morale Question

Asked about the mental attitude of the Cleveland Browns, who are sharpening up their attack for Sunday's do-or-die game against the New York Giants, Brown said: "It's one thing I'm not worried about.

Brown joined the Giants in hoping for a dry field in Yankee Stadium, and his reasoning sounded similar to that of Vince Lombardi, offensive coach for the Giants.

"We have more team speed in my opinion so a bad field hurts us more," said Brown. "I believe the Giants are a shade bigger."

Lombardi, on the other hand, told reporters in New York the Giant offense 'is built more on quick cuts rather than power. The heavy going was made to order for (Jimmy) Brown with the heavy middle of the Cleveland line."

Asked if any major changes are contemplated by the Browns, Coach Brown remarked:

"We're certainly not going to panic or go berserk because we lost a football game. We're making adjustments and some changes as we always do."

There was no sign of dejection in the Browns' dressing quarters at League Park, where practice sessions are held. The feeling of the team may have been best expressed by Ray Renfro, veteran pass receiver from Texas.

"I'd like to be playing them this afternoon," said Renfro. "I guess I've never felt so bad after a football game.

"It was tough after the championship loss in Detroit last season. This time, though, we're getting another chance." The Browns must win Sunday to take the Eastern Division title and get into the National Football League championship game against the Baltimore Colts Dec. 28.

Another player chimed in: "With that title game money riding on this one don't worry about the spirit of this squad.

Brown said last Sunday's game, won 13-10 by the Giants, "probably was one of our best efforts."

"Down deep," said Brown, "I still think we won. The boys feel the same way. We know we should have had the football after that fumble. That's part of the game we're in, though, and we accept it, get it out of our minds and go on."

The "fumble" Brown referred to was called an incomplete pass by head linesman Charley Berry. Brown says Frank Gifford caught Chick Conerly's pass, then dropped it. Walt Michaels of the Browns fell on the ball. On the next and last down Pat Summerall of the Giants booted the 49-yard field goal that won the game.

"Last Sunday we didn't get the break we waited for," said Brown. "but maybe it will come this Sunday. This game takes funny twists."

Who is the Giants' best runner? Best passer? Best punter? It is one and the same man — Don Chandler.

Chandler carried once this year on a fake punt against Baltimore and gained 15 yards. That stands as his average for the season. He passed once and completed it for a gain of 27 yards and a 1.000 percentage. The average for his 65 punts is 44 yards, second only to Washington's Sam Baker in the National Football League.

Although Coach Jim Lee Howell doesn't count on Chandler to do much running or throwing Sunday against Cleveland in the playoff for the eastern division title, he does count heavily on his punting.

Chandler is an Oklahoma boy who went to Florida to play college and a halfback at Florida under Bob Woodruff.

As a pro, Chandler seldom does anything but kick. But he always has the option from Howell to run on his own if there is a run open. Giant fans were as startled as the Baltimore staff when he faked a punt and ran against the Colts.

"I have been kicking a football as long as I can remember," he said. "I don't remember who taught me. It just seemed to come naturally. . ."

Chandler's longest punt this year was a 65-yard boot against Pittsburgh. He did kick one 79 yards from the line of scrimmage in an exhibition game.

Junior Game Won By Bloomingburg

The boys from Good Hope could not penetrate the Bloomingburg defense and were held to three field goals.

The lineups and points scored were:

Bloomingburg — Roberts 2, Redd 5, Weaver 9, Reed, Craig 4, Carman 2, Harris 4, Knisley 8, Evans 7 and Johnson 2.

5 County Teams To Play Friday

League Lead at Stake In One of Games

After a disastrous Tuesday night for three Fayette County cage teams, all five of them will hit the hardwood Friday night with hopes of breaking the defeat jinx that has dogged most of them all season.

Two of Friday night's games will be league encounters and the top spot is at stake in one of them.

New Holland's Bulldogs, newcomers to the league this year, will be the only team involved in a non-league scrap, with the boys from Mt. Sterling playing on the New Holland floor.

The big game of the evening will bring together the No. 1 Jeffersonville Tigers and the No. 2 Madison Mills Warriors on a larger, and neutral, court at Bloomingburg.

If the Tigers, with a 3-0 league record, win this one, they will tighten their grip on the lead. If the Warriors, with a 2-1 league record, win, they can come up on even terms with the Tigers at the front of the race.

* * *

WHILE the Tigers and Warriors are battling on the Bloomingburg floor, the Bulldogs will be at Good Hope tangling with the Mad Anthonys. Although the Bloomingburg outfit has won only two of eight games this season and the Good Hope outfit only one of nine, the Bulldogs appear to have the edge because of the narrow margins of their defeats. The Bulldogs have lost four games by only 4 points or less.

This will be the first of the second two-game weekend in a row for the Bulldogs. On Saturday night they will go to West Jefferson to take on a team of unknown strength, because it plays in a different circuit.

What effect last Tuesday night's defeats will have on the Tigers, Mad Anthonys and New Holland Bulldogs remains to be seen Friday night — That's the attitude of the coaches. Coach George Greer of the Tigers went a bit further, however; he said he thought the 62 to 54 loss Tuesday night to Clarksville would put the spur to the aggressive spirit of the Jeffersonville boys.

Here are the games this week:

FRIDAY NIGHT
Bloomingburg at Good Hope
Mt. Sterling at New Holland
Jeffersonville at Good Hope
(To be played at Bloomingburg)

McLean Resigns As Packer Pilot

Last summer McLean forecast his team had "as good a chance as any" for the league title and declared, 'We're going to shoot the moon."

Tribe Chief Readies Talks On Contracts

CLEVELAND (AP) — It's contract time for Cleveland Indians and general manager Frank Lane is busy today trying to get his players' signatures on agreements for next season.

Seven players, including recently-acquired Billy Martin, have already signed.

Lane is in Cuba today trying to reach agreement with outfielder Minnie Minoso, who has a reputation as a hard bargainer. Minoso got a reported $40,000 and a new car for signing last year.

After Minoso there's infielder Vic Power in Puerto Rico. Power returned his contract unsigned. He will undoubtedly use his .312 batting average, highest among the Indians last season, as bargaining point.

Rocky Colavito batted .303 last season and was second in the American League with 41 home runs and 113 runs batted in. The rightfielder is asking $30,000 — twice as much as he received last year.

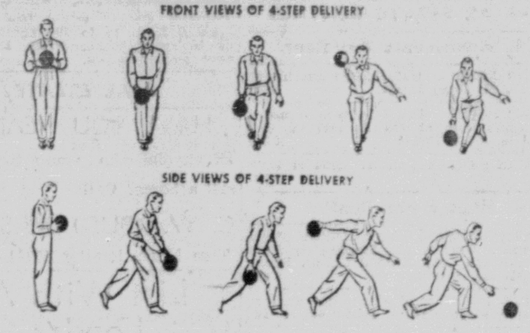

Already signed besides Martin, who is probably in the $20,000 a year bracket, were pitchers Cal McLish, Morrie Martin, Jake Strker. Infielders Billy Moran and Randy Jackson and outfielder Carroll Hardy.

TIPS from the TOP on BOWLING

SIDE VIEWS OF 4-STEP DELIVERY

By MARION LADEWIG
Six-Times National Match Game Champion

THE APPROACH is the coordination of movements of the hands and feet that bring you and the ball to the foul line in a smooth, continuous motion.

For a smooth approach, I advise a four-step delivery. While I use and advise the four-step approach, I do not, by any means, rule out more or less steps.

How many steps a bowler uses in the approach depends on the individual's requriements. Sometimes too few steps places a great strain on the arm. Sometimes too many steps only result in confusion.

In the standard four-step approach, the first step is taken with the right foot and should be fairly slow and not too long. As the body moves forward in a smooth, straight-line approach, with shoulders level and eyes on the target, the ball is pushed gently forward and then let come down of its own weight.

On the third step, the ball reaches the height of the backswing. Throughout the straight-line approach, body weight should be evenly balanced. This means, among other things, that your left arm (for right-handed bowlers) should be making a counterbalancing move just as it does in everyday walking.

The fourth step is a slide on the left foot with the right foot acting as a brake to keep you from violating the foul line. This is the reason for the different type shoe soles mentioned in lesson number one.

Vasquez Disputes TKO for Perkins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eddie Perkins was beaming and Baby Vasquez screaming today in the aftermath of Perkins' second straight victory before the Wednesday TV fight cameras.

Perkins, 21-year-old Chicago lightweight comer, stopped Vasquez on a technical knockout at 2:40 in the seventh round of their lightweight scrap at Capital Arena Wednesday night.

"A short right did it," Perkins said.

Celtics Advance Into 1st Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celts find themselves in first place today in the National Basketball Assn's Eastern Division by using a much-maligned facet of play in the pro ranks — defense.

Boston defeated the Detroit Pistons 102-95 in the second game of a doubleheader at Detroit after the champion St. Louis Hawks rolled over the New York Knicks, 136-122 in the first game.

The Knicks and Celts were tied for first place before Wednesday night's only NBA action.

Detroit was held to a skimpy 16 points in the fourth period, after trailing 80-79 after three quarters.

Ohio Colleges Win 4 Out of 5

Out-of-State Foes Cop but 1 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio colleges triumphed in four of five basketball games with out-of-state teams Wednesday night.

Toledo's Rockets went on a scoring spree and defeated Western Michigan 106-84, Dayton's unbeaten Flyers chalked up their fifth straight win 93-77 over Texas Southern, unbeaten Steubenville swamped Alliance College of Cambridge Springs, Pa. 90-55, and Oscar Robertson and his Cincinnati Bearcats, rated No. 1 in the nation, plastered College of The Pacific 112-66.

Robertson chalked up 39 points despite a jammed finger as the Bearcats took their fourth straight victory without defeat. He also grabbed 23 rebounds. The Bearcats made good on 45 of 86 field goal attempts for a 52 per cent average.

Dayton's Frank Case also had a wild scoring night, dropping in 37 points, the most he ever got in one game in his college career. It was Texas Southern's first loss in five starts.

Sophomore Jerry Galick paced Toledo with 28 points as the Rockets posted their second straight Mid-American Conference victory. They stand 4-5 for the season.

Steubenville posted its 31st straight victory over a two-season span and its 58th in a row at home in routing Alliance. Steubenville is now 8-0 for the season.

In the only other interstate action, the University of Louisville handed Wittenberg its first loss of the season against four victories. Louisville had a 10-point margin at halftime but Wittenberg chopped away and the score at the final buzzer was 56-49. The losing Tigers outshot the Kentuckians from the field, posting a 42.6 per cent average to Louisville's 34.5 per cent.

In three games on the home front, Denison came up with its third straight Ohio Conference victory 77-68 over Ohio Wesleyan, Bluffton got its first Mid - Ohio League win 72-67 over Findlay, and Marietta, 3-2 for the season, handed winless Kenyon its fourth straight loss 71-51 in an Ohio Conference fray.

Ohio Boating Regulations Declared Illegal by Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A constitutional question has arisen regarding Ohio's inland boating regulations:

If an administrative branch of state government sets up regulations on the use of boats traveling inland waterways, can a person be held guilty of violating such rules?

Judge Charles B. Holtsberry of Licking County Common Pleas Court in Newark says it's a cardinal principle of representative government that the Legislature cannot delegate its power to make laws.

The one exception is when the Ohio Constitution, either expressly or by implication authorizes the delegation of such power to another body of goverment, the judge says.

Holtsberry cited an Ohio Supreme Court ruling that no act is punishable as a crime unless it is a violation of a properly adopted statute or ordinance.

Therefore, when the Ohio Department of Natural Resources sets up regulations on the speed, size and use of boats on inland waterways, and there is no law passed by the Legislature to this effect, can the regulations be legally enforced?

Judge Holtsberry said no in ruling that the department's regulations for lake boating are unconstitutional.

His ruling came in the case of James Pairan of Thornville, who was charged last June with reckless operation of a boat on Buckeye Lake near Newark. Pairan also thinks the regulations are unconstitutional and pleaded not guilty.

Herbert B. Eagon, Natural Resources director, had no immediate comment Wednesday on the judge's decision. But he said the department's park regulations affecting boating were set up under the Administrative Procedures Act, which has been upheld in previous court tests.

Longer Ohio Racing Card Is Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A study committee of the fact-finding Ohio Legislative Service Commission has recommended against extending the 44-day limit on horse race meetings.

The committee, in its report to the commission Wednesday, said lengthening of the yearly racing dates would improve the qualify of racing.

But it said such a move would allow more racing in every area but the Cleveland area and might be opposed for that reason.

It explained that meets now held at county fairgrounds could be moved to better equipped private tracks and those in the Cleveland area could be consolidated for the best facilities.

The committee's other recommendations, all of which will be submitted to the next Legislature for consideration, included:

Increasing the four - member State Racing Commission to five and boosting each member's pay from $3,200 to $4,200 a year; shifting from a part-time racing commission secretary to a full-time official whose pay would be increased from $2,500 to $7,500 annually; clarifying laws to make it definite that tracks in the same county or within 30 miles of each other can hold meets on the same day but at different times.

Browns Selling Title Tilt Tickets

Tickets for the Dec. 28 game went on sale Wednesday. Prices for reserved seats are $8 and $6. General admission seats, at $4, will go on sale the day of the game—if there is a game here.

3 Northeastern Ohio Areas Yield Moonshine Caches .

CLEVELAND (AP)—Moonshine whisky and the machinery which produces it turned up in three northeastern Ohio communities Wednesday.

Thomas Greer of Cleveland was released on $1,000 bond by U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn. Greer was arrested when liquor agents raided a 50-gallon still operating in his second-story apartment.

In Trumbull County, police arrested two men when 18 half-gallon jars of illegal whisky were found in the trunk of a car. The men were held at Warren. Deputies said charges of illegal possession of whisky will be filed.

And in Kent, police and liquor agents are looking for the owner of a shack which burned Wednesday. Firemen discovered a 30-gallon still in the structure.

Radio Station's Rival Wins Prize

There were prizes for each of more than 1,700 persons who attended the annual Christmas party of the Advertising Club of St. Louis.

3 Northeastern Ohio Areas Yield Moonshine Caches.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Moonshine whisky and the machinery which produces it turned up in three northeastern Ohio communities Wednesday.

Thomas Greer of Cleveland was released on $1,000 bond by U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn. Greer was arrested when liquor agents raided a 50-gallon still operating in his second-story apartment.

In Trumbull County, police arrested two men when 18 half-gallon jars of illegal whisky were found in the trunk of a car. The men were held at Warren. Deputies said charges of illegal possession of whisky will be filed.

And in Kent, police and liquor agents are looking for the owner of a shack which burned Wednesday. Firemen discovered a 30-gallon still in the structure.

Radio Station's Rival Wins Prize

There were prizes for each of more than 1,700 persons who attended the annual Christmas party of the Advertising Club of St. Louis.

Baby-Strangler Released by Clinic

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mildred McReynolds, 38, of Columbus, who last June was found not guilty by reason of insanity in the 1955 strangulation death of her 13-month-old child, was released from Lima State Hospital today.

Dr. Henry Luidens, superintendent of the hospital, said Mrs. McReynolds, former wife of a Columbus psychiatrist, was released to the custody of her mother, Mrs. Lucy Gifford of Columbus.

"Her recovery today is complete," Dr. Luidens said.

Chiropractor Bound To Grand Jury for Strangle Killing

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A 35-year-old New Boston chiropractor has been bound to the January grand jury on a first degree murder charge stemming from the strangulation of his mother.

Charles A. Stockham stood mute at a preliminary hearing Wednesday and Municipal Judge Lowell C. Thompson entered a plea of innocent for him. Stockham was allowed no bond. He is being held in Scioto County jail.

His mother, Mrs. Lucy Stockham, 66, was choked to death in her home at nearby Slocum Station Saturday night. Sheriff's deputies said Stockham admitted the slaying, saying his mother had threatened to have him committed to a hospital for mental illness as she did his father.

Mechem Voted as Chief Of Senate Minority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, for the last six years majority leader of the Ohio Senate, has been chosen minority leader for the Senate which convenes Jan. 5.

The Nelsonville Republican, who will be starting his ninth Senate term, was the unanimous choice of the 13-man Republican delegation. Democrats will have 20 seats in the new Senate.

Mechem told newsmen with a laugh, after the closed GOP caucus:

"It will be interesting to vote 'no' once in a while."

On His Birthdays, Man Bags Buck Deer

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Every youngster has the idea his birthday is something special. Tom Hinson of nearby Minford was 46 last week and he still thinks so. Last year, he bagged a 12-point deer on his birthday. Last week—again on his birthday— he got an eight-point buck.

Baby-Strangler Released by Clinic

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mildred McReynolds, 38, of Columbus, who last June was found not guilty by reason of insanity in the 1955 strangulation death of her 13-month-old child, was released from Lima State Hospital today.

Dr. Henry Luidens, superintendent of the hospital, said Mrs. McReynolds, former wife of a Columbus psychiatrist, was released to the custody of her mother, Mrs. Lucy Gifford of Columbus.

"Her recovery today is complete," Dr. Luidens said.

Chiropractor Bound To Grand Jury for Strangle Killing

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A 35-year-old New Boston chiropractor has been bound to the January grand jury on a first degree murder charge stemming from the strangulation of his mother.

Charles A. Stockham stood mute at a preliminary hearing Wednesday and Municipal Judge Lowell C. Thompson entered a plea of innocent for him. Stockham was allowed no bond. He is being held in Scioto County jail.

His mother, Mrs. Lucy Stockham, 66, was choked to death in her home at nearby Slocum Station Saturday night. Sheriff's deputies said Stockham admitted the slaying, saying his mother had threatened to have him committed to a hospital for mental illness as she did his father.

Mechem Voted as Chief Of Senate Minority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, for the last six years majority leader of the Ohio Senate, has been chosen minority leader for the Senate which convenes Jan. 5.

The Nelsonville Republican, who will be starting his ninth Senate term, was the unanimous choice of the 13-man Republican delegation. Democrats will have 20 seats in the new Senate.

Mechem told newsmen with a laugh, after the closed GOP caucus:

"It will be interesting to vote 'no' once in a while."

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

E M E V H X O X G N V M N O V Z X W O X U X G V U , S G X J N W X K X G V H N I J B C X W O X M X O S C J X — S B X .

Sabina's Council Meets Tonight To Fill Vacancies

Examiner's Criticism Of Village Records To Get Attention

SABINA — The remainder of the Sabina Village Council and Mayor Harold Hill will hold a special meeting Thursday night to select three new administrators to replace the group which resigned Monday.

Although Council will have sole jurisdiction over the choices, the mayor will have an interest in the selection as he has state-given powers to select the successors of Councilmen Cecil Anders and Clarence Elzey and Solicitor P. Paul Pusateri if Council fails to do so within 30 days.

The three resignations Monday were the second group of Council resignations to be tended within a month. Councilmen Chester Beverley, John Rneo and Elva Johnson handed theirs in in November.

* * *

THEY WERE replaced by Homer Williams, Elmer Johnson and Joseph McNeal. Robert McKenzie is now the only councilmen who gained his position at the polls.

* * *

ANDERS WOULD ONLY say his resignation was "due to lack of complete cooperation," but Hill pointed out that the group championed the passage of the proposed construction of a $667,000 sanitary system and sewage treatment plant turned down by voters in a September election.

Hill said he and present members of council advocated the restudy and adjustment of the proposal before it went before the voters.

Council also has a problem with the recent criticism of Treasurer John Barns' ledger by State Examiner R. E. Haecker.

Haecker said the ledger was "improperly and inefficiently maintained during the audit period" and listed numerous errors in it.

Council will take up the problem at its meeting Thursday night if it has time after the selection of the new councilmen, Hill said.

Sleepy Boy Actor Awakens on Stage, Thinks It All Real

LONDON (AP)—The school play required 7-year-old Teddy Kellegher to go to bed on stage and pretend to be fast asleep.

A host of little angels tiptoed in to the strains of a cradle song and quietly placed presents beside the bed.

Teddy was to wake up and rub his eyes in amazement at the gifts. The music stopped, but Teddy never stirred. He really was asleep.

Finally a teacher hurried across stage to give the young star a determined shake. Teddy sat up. He rubbed his eyes. And then he did what every little boy does on Christmas morning. Ignoring the script, he jubilantly started opening the parcels.

The audience roared. Teddy's stage aunt hurried on to say the final lines just in time to stop him from eating some of the candy. Daddy took the smiling, sleepy little boy home to bed.

Milledgeville Well Shooting Is Displayed

No time has yet been set for "shooting" the gas well on the Barnes land near Milledgeville.

Because of unforeseen delays it may be several days before the big charge is loaded in the well and the blast touched off. The shooting operation is to determine if gas in paying quantities exists under that area.

Carols Ring Out At Courthouse

The workday routine at the Fayette County Courthouse was broken for 10 minutes Thursday morning as the Washington High School brass choir presented a program of Christmas carols on the landing between the second floors.

As Courthouse attaches and visitors stood reverently silent in the halls, the 15-piece choir under the direction of Robert Neumann pealed out the traditional Yuletide favorites.

"The finest performance yet", was the concensus of the listeners.

Woman Pinned Between Cars Only Bruised

A Washington C. H. woman received bruises on her back and one knee Wednesday afternoon when she was pinned between a car backing out of a parking space and the automobile from which she was alighting, police said.

Rosa Blevins, 1029½ Dayton Ave., was getting out of a car of Aaron Burnett, 528 Fourth St., when Otto E. Olsen, 423 E. Elm St., backed from his parking space in front of the Post Office and caught her between the two vehicles, police said.

* * *

IN OTHER CITY accidents Wednesday, Ethel W. Caldwell, 827½ Washington Ave., struck the car of Frank C. Junk, 820 Willard St., at the intersection of alleys between Market and Temple Sts. and N. Hinde and Main Sts., police said.

Junk said he was stopped at the intersection, and Mrs. Caldwell said she was coming to a stop when they collided, according to the police report. Both cars were damaged slightly.

Carolyn L. Gorman, Mt. Sterling, slid into the parked car of Arthur Kelley, Greenfield, as she was backing out of a parking space on N. Main St., police said.

* * *

THE FIRST Fayette County accident in four days outside Washington C. H. involved two Bloomingburg men Wednesday afternoon.

Sheriff's deputies said Harvey E. Andrews and Raymond C. Vernon collided in the intersection of Cross and Wayne Sts. in Bloomingburg.

Each car received about the same amount of damage, deputies said, totaling about $300.

Road Safety Blueprint Is Readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A blueprint for action to reduce traffic slaughter is being submitted to Ohio's incoming legislators.

In the words of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, which is mailing its 10-point plan to legislation for survival through traffic islators:

1. Uniform traffic laws. 2. Coordination of heads of departments concerned with traffic safety, to study these problems on state and local levels. 3. Standardization of traffic accident reports, which would include more data. 4. Compulsory driver education courses in high schools or driver training schools for youths under 18, such courses to be supported by state grants.

5. Establishing a state safety center with public funds. 6. Requiring all new policemen in Ohio to take training courses at the safety center. 7. Uniform traffic tickets. 8. More strict requirements to get and retain a driver's license. 9. Periodic motor vehicle inspection. 10. Authorizing county commissioners to give county safety councils financial aid.

Didn't Steal, Just Traded!

Firemen Answer Call on Smoking Motor Wednesday

Firemen were called to the Fayette St. Grocery, 632 S. Fayette St., at 11:40 p. m. Wednesday when a compressor motor overheated and started to smoke.

There was no damage to the merchandise, Victor Rohde, manager, said.

The small siren, used on ordinary fires, is out of order and is being repaired. The large siren will continue in use on all fires until the smaller one is repaired, a department official said.

About 49 per cent of the total population of the United States were members of some church in 1940, and about 59 per cent in 1952.

Mainly About People

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew McDonald Route 2, have chosen the name Pamela June for their twin daughter and Mathew William for their twin son born Sunday in Memorial Hospital.

Walter L. Hobble, Washington C. H., is a member of the autumn quarter graduating class at Ohio State University. He receives the master of arts degree.

John Mark is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wolfe, Sabina, for their son born in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eldon Hidy, well known here, have moved from Grove City to 200 Buena Vista Ave., Columbus.

Grand Jury Faces Case-Less Session

Whether or not the January term grand jury will have an investigating to do when it meets Jan. 5 depends on the state of Fayette County's conduct and morals between now and the first of the year.

To date there is not a single case from lower courts awaiting action.

Prosecuting Attorney Rollo M. Marchant pointed out that any grand juror may choose to investigate any evidence of wrong-doing brought to his attention, or the prosecutor himself may present evidence without any charge having been filed.

The lack of grand jury business at the present time results in part from the fact that a special grand jury session was held during the summer and the September meeting was postponed until October.

Sabina's Council Meets Tonight To Fill Vacancies

Examiner's Criticism Of Village Records To Get Attention

SABINA — The remainder of the Sabina Village Council and Mayor Harold Hill will hold a special meeting Thursday night to select three new administrators to replace the group which resigned Monday.

Although Council will have sole jurisdiction over the choices, the mayor will have an interest in the selection as he has state-given powers to select the successors of Councilmen Cecil Anders and Clarence Elzey and Solicitor P. Paul Pusateri if Council fails to do so within 30 days.

The three resignations Monday were the second group of Council resignations to be tended within a month. Councilmen Chester Beverley, John Rneb and Elva Johnson handed theirs in in November.

* * *

THEY WERE replaced by Homer Williams, Elmer Johnson and Joseph McNeal. Robert McKenzie is now the only councilmen who gained his position at the polls.

* * *

ANDERS WOULD ONLY say his resignation was "due to lack of complete cooperation," but Hill pointed out that the group championed the passage of the proposed construction of a $667,000 sanitary system and sewage treatment plant turned down by voters in a September election.

Hill said he and present members of council advocated the restudy and adjustment of the proposal before it went before the voters.

Council also has a problem with the recent criticism of Treasurer John Barns' ledger by State Examiner R. E. Haecker.

Haecker said the ledger was "improperly and inefficiently maintained during the audit period" and listed numerous errors in it.

Council will take up the problem at its meeting Thursday night if it has time after the selection of the new councilmen, Hill said.

Sleepy Boy Actor Awakens on Stage, Thinks It All Real

LONDON (AP)—The school play required 7-year-old Teddy Kellegher to go to bed on stage and pretend to be fast asleep.

A host of little angels tiptoed in to the strains of a cradle song and quietly placed presents beside the bed.

Teddy was to wake up and rub his eyes in amazement at the gifts. The music stopped, but Teddy never stirred. He really was asleep.

Finally a teacher hurried across stage to give the young star a determined shake. Teddy sat up. He rubbed his eyes. And then he did what every little boy does on Christmas morning. Ignoring the script, he jubilantly started opening the parcels.

The audience roared. Teddy's stage aunt hurried on to say the final lines just in time to stop him from eating some of the candy. Daddy took the smiling, sleepy little boy home to bed.

Country Health Chief In Maryland Hospital

Dr. Benton V. Scott, health commissioner for Fayette, Ross and Pike counties, who has been ill for the past two weeks, has been removed from his home in Chillicothe to the Bethesda Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., for observation and treatment.

Dr. Scott became health commissioner for the joint county health district and the separate Chillicothe district more than three years ago, coming here from Hickory, N. C. He was a medical officer with the U. S. Navy in the last World War and also served with the Navy prior to that time.

Building Trade Workers To Get Wage Hikes

CLEVELAND (AP)—For 35,000 building trade workers in Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga and Lorain counties wages will increase six-cents an hour Jan. 1. The increase is the second in a three-year contract negotiated last summer. It raises the average hourly rate to $3.89 including fringe benefits.

Milledgeville Well Shooting Is Displayed

No time has yet been set for "shooting" the gas well on the Barnes land near Milledgeville.

Because of unforeseen delays it may be several days before the big charge is loaded in the well and the blast touched off. The shooting operation is to determine if gas in paying quantities exists under that area.

Carols Ring Out At Courthouse

The workday routine at the Fayette County Courthouse was broken for 10 minutes Thursday morning as the Washington High School brass choir presented a program of Christmas carols on the landing between the second floors.

As Courthouse attaches and visitors stood reverently silent in the halls, the 15-piece choir under the direction of Robert Neumann pealed out the traditional Yuletide favorites.

Woman Pinned Between Cars Only Bruised

A Washington C. H. woman received bruises on her back and one knee Wednesday afternoon when she was pinned between a car backing out of a parking space and the automobile from which she was alighting, police said.

Rosa Blevins, 1029½ Dayton Ave., was getting out of a car of Aaron Burnett, 528 Fourth St., when Otto E. Olsen, 423 E. Elm St., backed from his parking space in front of the Post Office and caught her between the two vehicles, police said.

She was treated by a physician.

THE FIRST Fayette County accident in four days outside Washington C. H. involved two Bloomingburg men Wednesday afternoon.

Sheriff's deputies said Harvey E. Andrews and Raymond C. Vernon collided in the intersection of Cross and Wayne Sts. in Bloomingburg.

Each car received about the same amount of damage, deputies said, totaling about $300.

Road Safety Blueprint Is Readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A blueprint for action to reduce traffic slaughter is being submitted to Ohio's incoming legislators.

In the words of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, which is mailing its 10-point plan to legislation for survival through traffic islators:

"It is truly an outline of legis-safety in Ohio, developed and keynoted by citizen action."

The recommendations were adopted last June by 300 delegates to the committee's action conference.

The program calls for:

1. Uniform traffic laws. 2. Coordination of heads of departments concerned with traffic safety, to study these problems on state and local levels. 3. Standardization of traffic accident reports, which would include more data. 4. Compulsory driver education courses in high schools or driver training schools for youths under 18, such courses to be supported by state grants.

5. Establishing a state safety center with public funds. 6. Requiring all new policemen in Ohio to take training courses at the safety center. 7. Uniform traffic tickets. 8. More strict requirements to get and retain a driver's license. 9. Periodic motor vehicle inspection. 10. Authorizing county commissioners to give county safety councils financial aid.

Didn't Steal, Just Traded!

Romain Croker reported the theft to the police Wednesday morning.

Firemen Answer Call on Smoking Motor Wednesday

Firemen were called to the Fayette St. Grocery, 632 S. Fayette St., at 11:40 p. m. Wednesday when a compressor motor overheated and started to smoke.

There was no damage to the merchandise, Victor Rohde, manager, said.

The fire department sounded the alarm with the large siren on top of the Courthouse buildng.

The small siren, used on ordinary fires, is out of order and is being repaired. The large siren will continue in use on all fires until the smaller one is repaired, a department official said.

About 49 per cent of the total population of the United States were members of some church in 1940, and about 59 per cent in 1952.

Mainly About People

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew McDonald Route 2, have chosen the name Pamela June for their twin daughter and Mathew William for their twin son born Sunday in Memorial Hospital.

Walter L. Hobble, Washington C. H., is a member of the autumn quarter graduating class at Ohio State University. He receives the master of arts degree.

John Mark is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wolfe, Sabina, for their son born in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Eldon Hidy, well known here, have moved from Grove City to 200 Buena Vista Ave., Columbus.

Grand Jury Faces Case-Less Session

Whether or not the January term grand jury will have an investigating to do when it meets Jan. 5 depends on the state of Fayette County's conduct and morals between now and the first of the year.

To date there is not a single case from lower courts awaiting action.

Prosecuting Attorney Rollo M. Marchant pointed out that any grand juror may choose to investigate any evidence of wrong-doing brought to his attention, or the prosecutor himself may present evidence without any charge having been filed.

The lack of grand jury business at the present time results in part from the fact that a special grand jury session was held during the summer and the September meeting was postponed until October.
